SECOND LAP OF BIG SEWER PLAN GIVEN APPROVAL

North and South Drainage from Mississippi Street Trunk to Go Into the Budget

BOND ISSUE IS PROPOSED

Six Thousand to Be Raised by City's Paper and $30,000 Put Into Tax Levy

The greatest sewer project in the history of La Crosse, one calculated to serve the major needs of the city for fifty years, was recommended at a meeting Thursday evening of the finance and sewer committees of the common council. It is the second lap of the big construction launched this year with the Mississippi street trunk sewer.

Also, the first bond issue in four years, for $60,000, was proposed, which, with a budget fund of $30,000 would take care of the city's share in the expense, which totals, on City Engineer Bradish's estimates, $89,048.

The total cost of the project would be $166,114, according to the Bradish estimates, $77,066 devolving on the property owners.

Eleven Miles of Sewer

The proposed sewer construction embraces two major systems: Seventeenth street from Mississippi to La Crosse, and all laterals; and Sixteenth street between Mississippi and Green Bay streets, and all laterals.

Approximately eleven miles of new sewer lines is proposed, seven on the Seventeenth street survey and four on the Sixteenth street system. The main lines of the proposed major systems will connect with the Mississippi street sewer, now under construction. The Seventeenth street sewer, it is proposed, will start as a forty-inch line, the Sixteenth street sewer as a thirty-six inch trunk, both tapering to twelve inches at La Crosse and Green Bay streets, respectively, being eclipsed in size by the Mississippi street line only.

The cost of the proposed construction is opportioned as follows:

	City.	Prop. Owners.	Total.
17th . . .	$65,775	$46,312	$112,087
16th . . .	23,273	30,754	54,027
Totals . . .	$89,078	$77,066	$166,114

Not Ready for Council

The matter is not yet ready for the council, it being indicated one or possibly two more meetings of the committees may be held before a finished draft of the big project will be handed to the city fathers for their consideration.

There was not a dissenting voice when Engineer Bradish presented his plans, which gained favor when it was learned approximately 95 per cent of the streets for the proposed sewers now carry water. The cost to the city in installing water pipes, therefore, would be negligible, it was maintained.

Trunk Builders Busy

That construction of the Mississippi street sewer has progressed well since installation by the contractors of new machinery, it was said at the meeting. There was no official discussion of the matter.

A petition from Thomas E. Woolley for a sewer on the north side of King street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets to accommodate three pieces of property owned by him, was pigeonholed. Adjacent property owners, who would be involved in the cost of the sewer, it was pointed out, have already made connection on Twelfth street.

U-53 Reported Sighted Off The American Coast

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 13.—The radio station here Friday received a report from an unknown steamer stating that she had sighted the German submarine U-53 well off Nantucket shoals at seven o'clock in the morning.

ASKS ARREST OF CHIEF HEALEY

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—When Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney, asked for a warrant for the arrest of Chief of Police Healey here Friday on charges of conspiracy, Judge Olson of the municipal court said it was the custom to refer all such cases to the criminal bench of the municipal court and that he would follow the custom in this case. A short continuance of the application was taken.

SHIP WRECK SOLD

MANITOWOC, Wis., Oct. 13.—The schooner James Hall, which ran on the beach four miles north of Two Rivers recently, has been sold by Captain Sam Neumann to Captain Dan Seavey of Escanaba.

MOVIES OF FAIR

BEAVER DAM, Wis., Oct. 13.—Motion pictures of the recent Beaver Dam county fair are now being shown in movie houses throughout the state.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS CALLS HUGHES "GRANNY"S FOR WILSON ATTACK

"The eight hour law is an eight hour law!"

"Mr. Hughes is trying to compare the railroads of America with the cotton mills of the south. He is not only silly but acts like a granny."

"Instead of being a detriment to the railroads, the new law tends to better their business."

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, democratic leader in the upper legislative body of congress, wrinkled his brows and brought his hand down hard on his open palm while he talked to a TRIBUNE reporter in his room at the Hotel Stoddard Friday morning. Senator Williams will address a democratic gathering at Yeomen hall Friday night. He speaks in Milwaukee Saturday night.

Senator Williams is of a distinct type of southern statesmen. He speaks with a pronounced southern accent, punctuating his remarks occasionally with a delightful humor, but showing his distaste for the republican presidential candidate's attacks upon President Wilson with frowns and snappy condemnations.

Denies Railroads Wronged

His entire interview was taken up with a denial of the Hughes' statements that the enactment of the eight-hour law wronged the railroads.

"In the first place," Senator Williams said, "President Wilson prevented the greatest strike ever impending in America. Republicans contend that congress passed the law blindly. If they mean that they make the congressmen out fools, for there was complete understanding of the legislation before the final vote was taken."

"If the eight hour law costs the railroads more to operate, it is only necessary for them to run their trains at an increased speed. There are only two or three civilized countries on the globe which would stand for the handling of freight at the snail-pace at which it is handled in America. Railroads are running freight trains at the average rate of ten miles an hour. In speeding them up to twelve and a half miles they would be able to pay more salaries and increase the efficiency of their business twenty-five percent. I consider President Wilson's move in the matter one of the greatest pieces of legislation in the history of the country."

Senator Williams declined an invitation to an automobile ride about the city Friday afternoon. He stayed close in his room at the hotel most of the day, although there was a steady stream of visitors during the morning. To each he predicted complete victory for President Wilson in the coming election.

WATCH YOUR STEP! HERE'S OLD FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH

High School Coach Finds His Star Halfback Crippled But Arrested Junk Dealer Thinks Day Lucky One

Watch your step.

This is Friday, the Thirteenth!

The La Crosse high school football team felt it, but Abraham Asfoor, junk dealer, doesn't believe in the day.

Coach Bell of the high school gridiron warriors, discovered on Friday morning—just after he had glanced at the calendar—that his star halfback, Fritz Layman, would be out of the game for a week or ten days. He was injured in Thursday's scrimmage practice with the second team. This somewhat cripples the team for Saturday's game with Tomah, to be played at Tomah.

Junk Man Likes Day

When Abraham Asfoor lamped the calendar on Friday morning it didn't make him feel bad at all. Asfoor, a junk dealer, was arraigned before Judge John Brindley, charged with buying a quantity of stolen copper, and fined $20 and costs, but here's the reason why Friday, the Thirteenth, don't scare Asfoor—the judge suspended sentence.

Superstitious Cat

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 23.—On Friday, the 13th, Coleman Flaherty came forth with the story that he has a cat that won't eat meat on Friday.

Flaherty is a good Catholic. The cat, accustomed to getting the leavings of Flaherty's fish meals Fridays, decided it would have nothing but fish each seventh day.

ADRIATIC BELIEVED IN PATH OF U-53

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The big British munitions carrier Adriatic may be in the path of the destructive U-53.

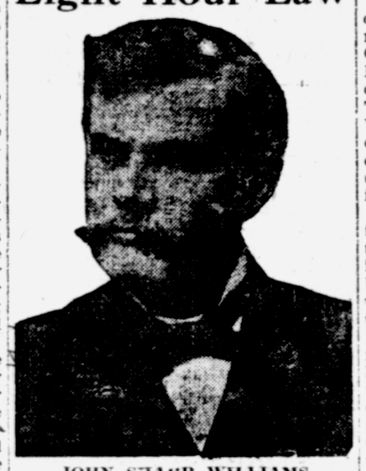

The latter vessel reported well off Nantucket was thought by some marine experts here to be lying in wait for the big steamer and her enormous war cargo. The Adriatic slipped out beyond Sandy Hook Thursday night, after a brief anchorage, with all lights out and a careful lookout for submarines.

Her exact course is not known, though she apparently was heading south of the usual ship channels.

BOY IS FINED

Claud Devine, 18, Madison, was fined $5 and costs by Judge John Brindley Friday morning for the theft of a cap from Elmer Kelly. Kelly is a cook in a local restaurant.

CREAM CITY MAN ELECTED TO HEAD STATE BAPTISTS

E. J. Lindsay Made Honorable President of State Convention; Beaver Dam Man Made President

CONVENTION CLOSES

Address of Cleveland Pastor and Banquet of Young People Feature End of Convention Week

E. J. Lindsay, Milwaukee, was elected honorable president, and E. P. Brown, Beaver Dam, named president of the Wisconsin Baptist State convention at the closing session held at the First Baptist church on Thursday.

Other officers elected follow:

Vice Presidents, F. R. Barber, Warren, and W. H. Jones, Racine; recording Secretary, G. C. Alborn, Milwaukee; Assistant Recording Secretary, J. I. Malott, Milwaukee; Treasurer, H. W. Bardenwerper, Milwaukee; auditors, E. W. Bond and C. C. Hosmer, Milwaukee, and Hostorian, E. B. Edmunds, Janesville.

Delegates Leave City

With the closing of the convention to have been one of the largest and most successful in the history of the Baptist denomination in Wisconsin, the 200 visitors representing every city in the state began to leave immediately for their homes. The majority of the delegates had departed Friday morning.

Declaring that Evangelism was the dominate note in all religious work, Dr. H. F. Stillwell, of Cleveland, Ohio, prominent in the Baptist circles all over the country, delivered the principal address of the Thursday afternoon session.

Evangelism Personal Touch

"The persuasiveness of evangelism compels a restudy of its application in our present church plans," Dr. Stillwell said. "The variety of evangelists and evangelistic method compels is to determine our relation to it. Evangelism is the presonal peculiar proclamation of the glad news of redemption. It is more than a proclamation; it is implies enthusiasm and persuasion and passion.

"Fundamentally it is not a consideration of big meeting; it is on individual matter. There is no substitute for the personal touch. The preacher is a fisher of men,—catching men.

"The peculiar message of salvation gives character to the preacher's business. There is nothing like it in any other religion. No other religion promises such gladness for the sorrowing; such liberty for the sound. It is a story to be tried; a message to be proclaimed. There is a difference between evangelical preaching and evangelistic preaching. One is is displaying the goods, the other is selling them."

Banquet Closes Convention

One of the features of the last day of the convention was the young people's banquet in the parlors of the First Methodist church, in which one hundred and fifty persons, consisting mainly of young folks, participated. Roy Ahlstrom, a member of the Young People's society of the Tabernacle Baptist church, was toast master, and introduced the speakers in a pleasing manner. The

GENERAL ELECTION FRAUDS CHARGED TO JUSTICE HEADS

Department of Justice Hopes to Dispose of the Cases Before Elections

GOOD AUTHORITIES GIVEN

Voters' Leagues and Citizens' Organizations in Some Cases Made Charges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Charges of widespread election fraud conspiracies in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, Detroit, and other Michigan cities, several Indiana cities, including Indianapolis and Terre Haute and in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Colorado, are under investigation by the department of justice. The department hopes to dispose of the cases before the coming elections.

Bribery, illegal registration, colonization and proposed illegal voting at the November election, are included in the charges. The department has been informed it is planned to take voters from one state to another to use them in elections.

Charges made to the department, it was admitted, have been on excellent authority. In many cases they were made by voters' leagues and citizens' association. In some instances, ti is understood, direct charges were made that certain political organizations have planned frauds; in other cases that frauds of past years were to be repeated.

Election fraud cases in Denver, Colorado, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, it was said, concern past cases. The Denver investigation has to do with the Colorado Fuel & Iron company investigation of some months ago. The West Virginia investigation is the continuation of a general probe into West Virginia politics which has already figured in the state courts. The Pennsylvania investigation involves alleged campaign contributions by liquor interests which attracted widespread attention some months ago. These last cases are understood to be about ready for trial.

Department of justice attorneys said Friday they would make every effort to prevent the frauds which, it is alleged, are to be attempted in the November elections. In all cases where charges have been made, department agents are trying to "clean up" the cases before instead of after elections.

TRAIN NO. 6 ON THE MILWAUKEE DITCHED AND ENGINEER DIES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 13.—John Shepherd, engineer, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, was instantly killed and three other persons were injured Friday when the St. Paul passenger train No. 6 left its tracks within the city limits of Minneapolis.

Considerable track repairing has been done recently in the vicinity of the wreck. Rails there were reported not to be solidly fixed. The engine, mail car, express car and two baggage cars left the tracks. Occupants of the cab jumped but Shepherd failed to get clear of the engine, which toppled on him.

The injured: George Morgan, St. Paul, mail clerk, right arm bruised and otherwise injured.

W. Carlson, Minneapolis, fireman, hip injured.

R. W. Ermescher, Minneapolis, mail clerk, arm injured.

Shepherd's home was in Minneapolis.

Italian Isonzo Drive A Failure Is Vienna Claim

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—The Italian drive on the Isonzo, launched for the purpose of relieving Austrian pressure on Rumania, has utterly failed in its purpose, said Vienna dispatches Friday.

The Austrians have blocked repeated Italian assaults without summoning a single regiment from any other front, it was stated. General Cadorna has failed to make any important gains though he wasted ammunition lavishly in eight days of bombardment that preceded the assault.

British and Serbian attacks in Macedonia, probably for the purpose of drawing off Bulgarian troops from the Rumanian front, have met with a similar fate. The Bulgars withdrew at a few places, but everywhere maintained their fortified lines.

Italians Gain Ground

VIENNA, Oct. 13.—Italian troops have gained some ground six and one-half miles south of Goritz in their violent offensive on the Carso, it was officially announced Friday but have left 2,700 prisoners in Austrian hands.

In the Pasubic region the Austrians have withdrawn somewhat.

DESTROYERS DASH OUT IN SEARCH OF A NAVAL BASE

Suspicions Aroused by Repeated Rumors of Belligerent Base on This Side

KNOW LOCATION OF BASE?

Suddenness of Departure Leads to Reports Naval Men Have Been Tipped Off

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Suspicion that a belligerent government might be maintaining a naval base on the Atlantic coast of this country, caused a sudden dash to sea of destroyers from Newport Thursday, Secretary Daniels said Friday.

Admiral Mayo, commanding the Atlantic fleet ordered the ships out. They will scour the coast as far north as Eastport, Maine, near the Canadian border, searching for possible secret submarine bases or wireless stations.

"We have no reason to believe any belligerent is maintaining a base on this shore," Daniels said. "During the last year, however, whenever there has been a report, or even a possibility that a belligerent was maintaining a submarine base on this side, we have sent destroyers out to search for it."

Since the arrival of the U-53, Daniels said, there have been many reports, particularly in newspapers, that some belligerent was maintaining a naval base here. Daniels has received letters, it was admitted, suggesting such a possibility. The order for the sudden trip to sea though, was made by Admiral Mayo on his own initiative.

While the department has no information on this point, the suddenness of the departure of the destroyers gave rise to reports that the Newport naval men had been "tipped" to the location of a naval base.

The possible base or bases are not believed to be on land. Instead, according to official tips here, supplying may be done by shipmasters from Canada, the United States and Spain, while non-sinkable rafts with oil barrels attached may be floated out to belligerent war vessels. The tip here is that these supplies have been sent to German submarines.

Expect More Raids

One official guardedly admitted his belief that there will be more submarine raids next month.

It was also said that agents of the treasury and justice department are co-operating in the search. The justice department would be concerned in discovering whether this country was permitting a violation of its neutrality by allowing the establishment of such bases.

The treasury department is working through the coast guard service.

Leave Newport

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 13.—Rushing through the waters of the Atlantic coast as far north as the Canadian boundary line, fifteen United States torpedo destroyers from the naval base here on Friday were searching the bays and harbors for a possible naval base of a belligerent government.

One by one the destroyers left Newport harbor Thursday until at midnight they were strung out along the coast with three reported as far north as Bar Harbor, Maine. Reports from the destroyers by radio were not given out by the station here but so far as is known no actual evidence of a belligerent base of supplies has been located.

Divorce Matter Is Laid Over By Episcopalians

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 13.—When the joint session of the house of bishops and the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church convened at noon Friday the divorce question was laid over until Saturday.

Because many of the deputies and bishops are on missionary committees, which met Friday afternoon, the important question of a new church law, prohibiting marriage of divorced persons, was laid over.

Report of general commission on missions was presented by Rt. Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, bishop of New York, immediately after the session was called to order. He presented figures to show that $1,640,000 were spent by the church for foreign missions during the last year, and pleaded that the church take enough interest in the important work to properly finance it.

A report made to the conference Friday urged the unity of all Christian churches of the world.

KANSAN LEAVES WITH CONTRABAND

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The American-Hawaiian liner Kansan, which was intercepted last Sunday morning by a German submarine off Nantucket light, left Friday for Genoa and St. Nazaire, carrying a cargo of war munitions and horses for the allies.

LA CROSSE, WINONA AND RED WING JOINS ISSUES IN BIG FREIGHT FIGHT

TRAFFIC BUREAU FILES CASE AS TO ST. LOUIS RATES

Asks Suspension of New 60 Cent Increase on Southern Shipments from La Crosse

FORMAL HEARING ASKED

New Rate Affects Every Article Shipped from La Crosse for South and Southwest Trade

Protesting against what is alleged to be an unwarrantable increase of twenty per cent in the class rates between La Crosse and St. Louis, the Traffic bureau has filed application with the Interstate Commerce commission for suspension and investigation of the proposed raise. The proposed increase announced recently by the railroads was to have been effective November 5th. It raises the first-class rates to St. Louis and East St. Louis from 50 to 60 cents, with a proportionate increase in other classes.

In its application for investigation the complaint recites that the indirect injury of the increase is much greater than the direct effect of the raise to St. Louis, inasmuch as all traffic from La Crosse to southern points proceeds via St. Louis.

There are no through rates in effect between La Crosse and the south, it was said Friday at the offices of the bureau. All goods shipped from La Crosse to southern points pay at a rate figured out by combining the local rates from La Crosse to St. Louis and from St. Louis to the destination. The effect of the twenty per cent boost is thus to increase the rate on every manufactured product of this city shipped south of the Ohio river and to the southwest.

The bureau expects that an order suspending the rate will be issued by the I. C. C. shortly, and that a hearing will be held on the matter within the next three months.

COUNCIL TO TAKE UP BUDGET ITEMS OF IMPORTANCE

Committee to Recommend Street Improvements for 1917 Aggregating the Sum of $35,000

Street improvements for La Crosse aggregating the sum of $35,000, recommended by the special street improvement committee, meeting on Thursday afternoon, $40,000 worth of sewer extensions, a $13,000 increase in the cost of operating public schools, and several other important items which may be placed in the budget of expenses of the city for 1917 will be taken up at a meeting of the common council on Friday night.

Among other proposed items to be listed in the budget are:

An additional police patrolman, repairing No. 1 fire station, new fire fighting apparatus, a new building on the West avenue playfield, increase in salaries of firemen, an additional expenditure for the north side junior high school and the repairing of the old Washburn school.

BRITISH ADVANCE TOWARD STRONG RAIL POSITIONS

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Pushing their patrols eastward from the towns of Prosenik, and Topolova, captured from the Bulgars a few days ago, the British reconnoitered with armored cars along the railway to the junction of the Seres-Demirhissar and Seres-Salonika roads, it was officially announced Friday.

The Bulgars are holding the railway in considerable force.

On the Lawe Doiran front, enemy trenches north of Doldzeli were raided by the British despite strong resistance. Bulgarian troops fled after their resistance was broken down.

HUGHES WILL TRY TO SHOW MISSOURI

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 13. — On what President Wilson considers his lucky day—Friday, the thirteenth—Republican Candidate Hughes swung into democratic Missouri, confident of making enough votes to carry the "show me" state in November.

He planned two red hot speeches in Springfield late in the afternoon and at Joplin at night.

CITIES TO MAKE A COMMON CAUSE FOR FAIRER PLAY

Complaint Will Seek Restoration of Old Lake-and-Rail Rates or Some Fair Equivalent of Same

TO ACT WITHIN 3 WEEKS

Hearing by I. C. C. Will Be Requested Upon Evidence Prepared by the La Crosse Traffic Bureau

WINONA, Minn., Oct. 13.—At a conference here Friday afternoon between representatives of the Traffic bureau of the La Crosse Chamber of Commerce, the Winona Commerce association and the Red Wing Board of Trade, an agreement was entered into whereby joint complaint will be made to the interstate commerce commission for a readjustment of through rates by lake-and-rail routes to relieve this section from discrimination in favor of Duluth, the Twin cities and intermediate points.

The matter was presented by Commissioner West of the La Crosse Traffic bureau. The Red Wing members, having authority to act, at once accepted the proposal. The Winona delegation unofficially accepted, but their position will be confirmed by the Chamber at a formal meeting.

It is expected that complaint and a request for a hearing will be filed with the I. C. C. within three weeks.

At 1:30 Commissioner W. W. West, of the Traffic bureau, took up the case before the conference with a mass of documentary evidence of alleged discrimination against this section of the Mississippi river valley in the matter of lake-and-rail rates. It was chiefly in the shape of correspondence between the traffic bureau and representatives of a dozen lines of rail-and-lake carriers. The letters formed the record of the Traffic bureau's attempts, begun last spring, to obtain the establishment of rates via lake-and-rail lines between La Crosse and eastern territory.

Dodge the Issue

The chief feature of the correspondence, Mr. West told the conferees, was the way in which the general freight agents had "passed the buck". Letters from the heads of freight departments of railroads announced that the lines were working with the Great Lakes Transit corporation to obtain rates. A letter from the general freight agent of the lake line said the corporation was using every effort with the railroads to arrange rates.

Commission is Busy

That the interstate commerce commission has also been working with the lines in an effort to establish rates was revealed by the correspondence in a reply to the Traffic bureau which sent a letter of inquiry.

The commission enclosed a copy of a letter from L. W. Lake, general freight agent of the Great Lakes corporation, in which he declared that through rates had not been established because the carriers could not agree on a division of the freight charges.

"But," said Mr. West, "this does not explain why rates such as we ask have been placed in effect to the Twin Cities, via Duluth, and to Milwaukee and Chicago. For some reason the territory of the upper Mississippi river has been ignored. The rates via Duluth are extended also to intermediate points between Duluth and the Twin Cities, coming as far south as Eau Claire.

Other Points Suffer

"Dubuque and other Iowa points have been treated the same way and already have made informal complaint to the commission. A formal complaint along the same lines that we contemplate is already assured from Dubuque and other Iowa and Illinois cities."

Mr. West recites in brief the history behind the lapse of the through lake-and-rail rates, showing how the divorce of rail and lake lines in the fall of 1915 had upset the structure of such tariffs. The Duluth, Chicago and Milwaukee rates, he said, had been renewed by the big lake line merger in the spring of 1916, and no reason or explanation was offered for ignoring Mississippi river points.

The Participants

The conferees representing La Crosse, Winona and Red Wing are as follows: James R. Kinsloe and W. W. West, La Crosse; C. E. Friederisch and Peter A. Nelson, Red Wing; A. R. More, H. M. Kinney, Enoch Stott, C. P. Olson, F. J. Meginnis and Secretary J. V. Gardner, of the Winona Association of Commerce. The conference was held in the offices of the Winona association.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

HER WEDDING DAY

By ELIZABETH SHIELDS

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

For fifteen minutes Cecilia O'Malley, cashier, had tried to count one package of dimes. She pushed the money aside petulantly and dabbed at her face with a speck of handkerchief, then sent a dimpled smile to Murray Kent, who, seated directly before her, was devouring a 10-cent lunch.

In the crowd of messy laborer and factory hands, eating with hats on, sprawling all over the tables, Murray stood out conspicuously. His fair, wavy hair, tanned skin and slenderly-made body radiated health against the background of unwashed, hopeless faces. He ate his soup quietly, sitting upright. Cecilia thrilled at the sight of him. She noted the easy grace with which he handled a fork.

She looked at him through curled lashes and followed his gaze to his yellow automobile, standing outside. Each day he came in just such splendor, leaving the car to tempt and tantalize her. She wanted to run away from the repugnant smells of the Third avenue restaurant.

The day was uncomfortably hot. Just across the street, beyond the yellow car, was strip of green grass and trees.

Elaborately nonchalant, Murray Kent finished his meal and came toward the cash desk. With hands deep in the pockets of his gray flannel shirt, he stood feasting his eyes on her alluring little body and flushed face, framed in soft brown hair.

"I shall come back for you later with the car," he said. "It's yours for the afternoon, little bird. You're welcome to everything I own."

"You're always making promises to me," protested Cecilia.

"I'll keep this one," he assured her. "We'll drive up Riverside and pick out a flat right now, sweetheart."

Cecilia smiled uncertainly and slowly withdrew her hand, which he had covered with his. "You're rich," she said. "I wouldn't be good enough for your family, I know."

"If you had the same clothes and setting of the rich girls in town—say, what's the use telling you all over again. Run away from your job for the afternoon. Come with me in the car, won't you?"

"Yes, when I'm through with the lunch hour crowd," she whispered. She turned on him adoring gray eyes. The mystery of something not understood but divinely thrilling, veiled them and trembled in her voice. Leaning toward Murray she exclaimed: "I have beautiful clothes—I bought a lovely pink gown—all lace and tulle and beads. You said you'd get your dad's box at the opera some night. I bought it for that."

A flush mounted the man's temples. "Regular opera is off in the summer, but you can were the dress, girlie." A boyish, impulsive laugh filled the small restaurant. "I'll have Caruso open up for a night, I will." His eyes lingered in rapture on the happy face upturned to his. A timid rippling sound from Cecilia's lips blended with the irresponsible gayety of the man's laugh.

"Maybe we'd better go to the movies," she suggested quickly.

"I'll go anywhere with you, child. I'm crazy about you."

"You're always laughing at me," she pouted.

"I'll return for you at four," he assured her.

When Murray crawled into the low seat of the car, Julia Schmitt, proprietor, seated herself in the open doorway. "The loafer," she scolded his well-tailored back. "Pays 10 cents for his lunch and spends the afternoons here."

Cecelia felt too wilted with the heat to reply. Suddenly Julia demanded: "Did he tell you how he happens to have 'S' on the door of his dad's car if his right name is Kent? She laughed at her own shrewdness.

Cecelia stopped sorting the blue checks. A seriously worried look crept into her eyes.

The hot afternoon droned on. Julia was quietly snoring when Murray drove his yellow car to the restaurant at 4 o'clock. Cecelia jumped in beside him.

They turned into Fifth avenue, straight up to Central park, crossing to Riverside drive. They dashed past blocks and blocks of apartment houses, but if Murray remembered anything about locating a flat he was trying to forget it in the speed of the car. Cecelia sat in breathless anticipation till the car slowed down on a rugged road, little more than a lane, leading to a narrow stream. Murray leaned forward to lift her from the car and the warmth of his face burned into hers as he whispered: "My, you're pretty!" His lips touched her throat.

"Kiss me, sweetheart," he begged, as he held her.

"No," Cecelia answered sharply. "Take me back—to Julia."

He ran his fingers through his half-wilted collar and took off his hat. "You don't care for me after all, do you?"

Cecelia crouched back afraid not so much of Murray as of herself. Her face flamed as an overpowering impulse came to put her arms about him and press her lips to his. "We forgot to look at apartments, didn't we?"

Murray bit his lips and then sent a dazzling smile at her.

"Why live cooped up in a ten room flat? Wouldn't you rather have a country house, darling? That's it—we'll live in the country."

"That would be wonderful." Cecelia tried to adjust her puzzled mind, with the nimbleness of Murray's, to a country house and garden. A mist filled her eyes. Her head slipped to Murray's shoulder as he kissed her and painted in words a rose covered cottage on the edge of a stream that they were to occupy as soon as he could find it. The moon was shining on the little strip of park opposite the restaurant when Cecelia crept up the front steps and into the house.

At 5 the next morning Cecelia was out of bed. This was her wedding day! On a card inscribed, "Murray Fraser Kent," was scribbled in lead pencil, "Tomorrow morning at 9."

At 6 o'clock Cecelia was at the cash desk and when at 8 o'clock the restaurant was empty, Cecelia threw aside forever the little black apron she wore and she arranged for the last time the blue cash checks of her lifetime. Cecelia appeared in her softest little summer dress and a summery hat at 9 o'clock and a happy smile in her eyes. She surveyed the crowded Third avenue block for Murray's blond head. The hot sun beat down on the pavements and the summer populace mopped its dripping brow. The hands of the clock outside Kranz's jewelry shop slipped slowly around to 10 o'clock.

Julia Schmitt was busy in the big kitchen when at 11, Cecelia, her face white as the marble table tops, tucked her hat under the cash desk. With trembling fingers she tied the black apron strings about her slim waist. Dejected and miserable, she climbed up on the high stool behind the cash desk. Tense with excitement, Cecelia sat opening packages of money, her gray eyes turned to the street watching automobiles of every color pass by, but no car painted yellow stopped before the door.

"He'll soon be here," she sobbed, as the usual noon-hour rush began. White and forlorn, dumly she doled out change to the customers.

"Say, Cis, stop day dreaming," sang the energetic voice of John Schmitt. "Hurry your change. These men have to get back to work."

Cecelia's slender fingers grasped blue checks again, swiftly handing back change. "He was only jollying me." Cecelia bent her head low on the desk. "I didn't understand."

Her eyes bright with unshed tears, Cecelia raised her head and turned to meet the much-battered face and bandaged head of Murray Kent standing hesitatingly in the restaurant door.

She flew to him. He muttered shame-facedly, "Bumped the boss' car into another fellow's and just came from the hospital."

"Your dad's yellow car?" cried Cecelia.

"Let's talk honest, girlie. That car belonged to Schaffer, the millionaire. I'm one of the chauffeurs." He refused to come further into the restaurant, till Cecelia clapped her hands in joy.

"I'm so glad! It's so much nicer not to be rich. I was afraid of that house and garden you talked about."

"There's only two rooms over the garage and gasoline smells are everywhere, but it will be our own home, if you can stand it." He raised her fingers to his lips.

PUBLIC DEBATE

A LABORING MAN'S VIEW

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 6, 1916.

I have read the prohibition speech in the Leader-Press and see that the speakers did not mention a single question that is of interest to the American working people today. The breweries and saloons were their only topic.

If the breweries or saloons are the cause of the high cost of living they surely ought to go.

If the breweries or saloons are the cause of crime they ought to go.

If the breweries and saloons are the cause of unemployment and attendant vices and crimes they ought to go.

If the breweries and saloons are the cause of pauper wages in some lines of business they ought to go.

So much for breweries and saloons.

The speakers did not inform the public how the enormous amount of capital invested in these industries can be reinvested nor did they give any information what they are going to do with the enormous amount of people that will be thrown out of employment, not to speak of those already out of employment under present conditions. If the prohibitionists will wait until the present European war is over they can send our unemployed and paupers to Europe, helping both countries.

As the election is drawing very close it will be well for the people to study the questions of the day before them from all sides very closely, as there are four parties and as many platforms in the field.

Prohibitionist, democrat and republican parties have well known records of long standing, the socialist party welcomes investigation of its platform.

SELLING OURSELVES RICH

American exports broke all records in August. For the first time in the history of this, or any other nation, the total value of exports for one month amounted to $510,000,000. The exports for the year ending August, 1916, totalled $4,750,000,000. For the same period imports were $2,300,000,000.

According to a school of political economy which prevailed just before the French revolution that nation which could sell the most and buy the least was the richest. Then it occurred to someone that the food, clothing and other things that were shipped out were just as valuable as the gold that was shipped in.

But there is a difference. The goods that are shipped out are the product of labor. The gold that is shipped back flows into the vaults of capitalists. Every new million in gold or securities that comes to these shores brings additional power to the small class of capitalists that own and rule America.

If we could follow these exports from the shop and the farm where they are created, and watch their transformation into gold and their return to this country we would find that the workers of America had taken over $2,000,000,000 from their product of the last twelve months and placed it in the hands of a handful of already powerful capitalists.

These two billions will now be reinvested and, for as many generations as American laborers are foolish enough to keep up a system of privately owned industry, they will continue to extract tribute from the workers of this country.

So far as the majority of the population is concerned these exports indicate that we are selling ourselves into slavery rather than into riches. Government ownership of all the means of production and distribution (which is socialism) will abolish all forms of exploitation of the worker.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

MACHINE TAUGHT AVIATION

It is not necessary for the aviator to have an aeroplane at his disposal continually. A machine has been invented which will enable him to learn the principles of aviation without ascending six feet from terra firma. The machine consists of two long steel arms which intersect each other at right angles. They are mounted upon a concrete pyramid at the intersection so that they balance when at rest. The aviator's seat is over the intersection and the machine moves with the wind or by means of weights that can be shifted, giving the driver the same effort to maintain his equilibrium as if he were up in the air.

BRITISH DISCOVER SERES STRONGLY HELD BY BULGARS

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A British cavalry brigade cleared the country around Seres of Bulgarian troops but found the city of Seres itself strongly occupied by the Bulgars, it was officially announced Thursday.

Near Doiran, the British conducted further raids on the enemy trenches, driving in two advanced Bulgarian forces Tuesday night.

URGE BAN ON MARRIAGE OF DIVORCED PERSONS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 13.—Absolute prohibition of the marriage of divorced persons in the Protestant Episcopal church, without special permission by the diocese bishop was urged Thursday by a special committee of the church at the opening session of the house of deputies, the highest body in the church.

TWO PAGES FROM HUGHES' RECORD

The one thing offensive to progressives in Mr. Hughes' record as governor of New York was his veto of the two-cent passenger fare bill. Governor Hughes held it confiscatory. Similar laws were in force in western states, standing the test, and the greater travel of the congested east made it seem certain such a law should be upheld there.

Probably Governor Hughes was wrong, for later experience has shown the two-cent rate adequate. But the incident makes out no case against Hughes. His sociological reforms in the Empire state fully justify his claim to recognition as a man of the times, even though he may have fallen into the single error that is urged against him.

During the past fifteen years there has come a new attitude toward government, a new interpretation of public service as seen from a new point of view. Men have grown in this new thought—Hughes among them. He grew into the reforms which he consummated while governor. That he did not stop growing then is shown by the fact that since vetoing the New York two-cent fare law Hughes has grown into this phase of the new idea. The evidence is found in an opinion written by Justice Hughes, of the United States supreme court, in the Minnesota rate case. Not only the rates for freight and passenger fares established by the state, but the right of the state to establish intra-state rates, were involved. The roads had won before Judge Sanborn, of the district court, and an injunction had been secured. The Hughes decision dissolved the injunction and upheld the entire theory of state regulation.

It may be said that the action of Hughes in vetoing the two-cent law in New York, and in sustaining such rate regulation in the Minnesota case, can be harmonized. His veto was based upon the opinion that the New York two-cent rate was confiscatory. That is a question of fact rather than of law. Government has no power to confiscate property in this way, the basis being the sufficiency of earnings. Hughes held the passenger rate insufficient in New York, but several years later held the Minnesota rates sufficient excepting in the case of one small road. The rate-making power of the state he fully sustained. The principle of law applied was the same in each case, but the Minnesota opinion expressed a broader view.

It doesn't pay not to be fair, even in politics. Despite the New York veto, Mr. Hughes now reads his title clear to a place of leadership in the governmental program for regulation of utility rates. He has won that place, not by words, but by official action which not only compelled the railroads of Minnesota to reimburse shippers to a total of $3,000,000, but which assures to that state reasonable railroad charges and to all states the power to establish reasonable railroad charges.

THE UNITED STATES OF—THE WORLD

The Wilson administration had been ushered in. The industrial and commercial nations of the world began to feel the pinch of a general depression. It touched the United States in due proportion. Then came the war, and the immediate shock to business. This was followed by a period of readjustment, and in mid-stream of the Wilson term the United States entered a time of prosperity based upon business that had its foundation in the exigencies of a foreign war.

In the present campaign the republicans are blaming Wilson for the depression that marked the first half of his administration, while the democrats are claiming credit for the prosperity that has characterized the latter two years of the Wilson term.

The fact is that the Wilson administration exerted no more than a negligible influence upon either its early depression or its later prosperity. Both were created by world conditions entirely beyond the control, not only of the president, but of the entire United States.

In November we shall elect either Woodrow Wilson or Charles Evans Hughes to the presidency. In all probability the European war will terminate during the new president's term. Cessation of hostilities will be followed by the collapse of our immense munitions and general war trade and a consequent business slump. There will then be the necessary period of readjustment, after which will probably come, during the reconstruction of Europe's industries, one of the most substantial periods of prosperity the United States has known.

Should the war end within the first two years, it is possible that the shock will have passed and prosperity will have returned before the 1920 election. Several divisions of conditions are possible. The new president may have two years of prosperity followed by two years of depression, or if the war ends soon, he may have two years of depression followed by two final years of prosperity. It is possible the order may be prosperity, adversity, prosperity, or adversity, prosperity, adversity.

In the campaign of 1920 the outs will blame the ins for bad business periods and the ins will claim credit for good business periods. But neither credit nor blame will belong to the administration in any measurable degree, because in 1916-20, as in 1912-16, conditions in the United States will be a reflection of world conditions to the influence of which inevitably we shall be subjected, nor president nor administration may materially alter this law of world work and business.

There will always be campaign "bunk", but the voters do not have to swallow it. The United States Chamber of Commerce has recognized the fact that world conditions, not presidents, make American business conditions. But while administrations can not materially change the average of business profits in the years 1916-20, it should be remembered that no matter what degree of business prosperity or adversity prevails, we shall have to pay taxes and to deal with the bigger problems of civilization, just the same. Economy and efficiency, and those activities that go to make the quality of American life—these are the real issues of the presidential campaign.

The professor was trying to demonstrate a simple experiment in the generation of steam.

"What have I in my hand?" he asked.

"A tin can," came the answer in concert.

"Very true. Is the can an animate or an inanimate object?"

"Inanimate."

Exactly. Now, can any little boy or girl tell me how, with this tin can, it is possible to generate a surprising amount of speed and power almost beyond control?"

One little boy raised his right hand.

"You may answer, Rutherford."

"Tie it to a dog's tail."

PEORIA

Peoria is known to fame for its whiskey, produced by one of the greatest batteries of distilleries in the world, and for its humor produced by George Fitch, who lived there. But this fame has never been great enough to make it a shrine for pilgrims, and little is known of the personality and appearance of the city.

Built on high bluffs overlooking the Illinois River, the residence part of Peoria consists of beautifully shaded avenues, lined by old houses set in generous grounds. Especially famous for its lignified and storied dwellings is Moss avenue, where dwell many of Peoria's most substantial non-rolling stones.

From this attractive section, you may overlook the whole city clear down to the edge of the river, where live the least fortunate Peorians in frail shanties that are swept away by every freshet.

A river is always a blessing to a city because of the recreation it affords and Peoria makes the best possible use of this asset. Two miles above the city is a wide bayou known as Peoria lake, and this is lined with summer homes and picnic grounds, and is alive with pleasure boats; while numerous excursion steamers ply up and down.

As for the making of ardent spirits—which is the source of Peoria's wealth, and enables it to contribute more in revenue stamps to the federal treasury than any other city in the union—you see nothing of that about the city. The distilleries are several miles out of town, and a faint odor of sour mash is all the casual visitor ever knows of them.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against overstoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own minds that they are too stout are advised to go to City Book and Drug Store, 500 Main street, or Columbian Pharmacy, 123 South Fourth street, and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

"When we poor folks marry, we stay married," said Reuben proudly.

"Haven't yoh—can't you afford a divorce?" asked Nelly timidly.

"No decent woman wants to be divorced," returned Mrs. Rubenstein, rocking a little more energetically.

But Reuben was of the younger generation. He had tasted the freedom of this country at an impressionable age, and he was throwing aside the bonds of the old country and the older generations. "That's it," he agreed with truth. "We can't afford to be divorced, though we may want to be. We have to be careful, you see, and marry the woman we love."

He looked straight and boldly at Nelly, and into his dark eyes leaped again the look she had seen as he came upon her unexpectedly in the hall, a look which no woman can misjudge. Nelly caught one glimpse and looked away hastily, returning to the subject of the new window to hide her confusion. In her breast a turmoil, fright, not unmixed with pleasure, guilt, oddly mingled with anger that he should presume thus on her friendliness. He should not look at her like that, he, the fourth assistant gardener. She would have nothing more to do with him now that he took such advantage of her kindly interest in his family; but after all what had he done? Nothing. She would have to wait for another glance before she could be sure she had seen aright, and meanwhile, she would not judge him too harshly. He was only a gardener, an uneducated Jew and even to think her thoughts was silly and lowering to herself. So she conversed hastily and in annoying confusion, on the subject of the window. Reuben, too, was shaken and turned to any topic for relief.

"We are going to put it there," said he, pointing, "between the window and the door. We know a fellow, a dandy fellow, who will do it cheap for us."

"He's a real good carpenter," added Mrs. Rubenstein.

"That will be nice," said Nelly. She rose, seeking a belated safety in flight. "I think I must go."

"What's your hurry?" asked Reuben, more nearly bursting with joy and pride the longer she was there.

At this the door flew open and two little girls of twelve and thereabout, ran in, flinging their school books on the table and chattering in high joyous trebles. Then they beheld the strange lady and stopped in shy confusion and slipped behind the high back of their mother's chair. They were fat, healthy little Jewesses with Reuben's good looks and the mother's placidity. Reuben introduced them and they nodded their pretty black heads, and one said bravely, "How do you do?"

Nelly protested that she must go.

"Come again," said Mrs. Rubenstein.

"Come when we get the new window in and see how nice it looks," urged Reuben.

"Yes, I will," replied Nelly, not knowing clearly what she did say.

She wished them all good-by and hurried out, hoping that Reuben would not follow her, but he did and in the narrow dark passageway, confusion seized her again. He was right behind her and she felt him brush against her as he passed her to reach the door. In nervous haste to open it first, she clasped the knob and his hand closed over hers. Both drew back, more confused than ever and Reuben murmured an apology. Nelly laughed gaily, indifferently, her self-control returning as she realized that he, too, was embarrassed. She was the lady again, dainty, aloof, he the gardener, the underling; between them was the question of services and wages, nothing else. Well poised now, fortified by years of social training, Nelly waited quietly until he, fumbling awkwardly with the latch, managed to open the door.

She gave him a pleasant little inclination of the head and with a polite gay little good-by, stepped out into the publicity of the hall. But Reuben stepped out after her, shutting the door on the merry chatter of the children and the amused laugh of the contented mother.

She was offended now that he should know his place so poorly as to follow her. She threw up her head coldly and turned her back on him as she strove to remember which of the three doors that faced her was the Hogans' door.

"I am going back to Miss Appleby's," said Reuben quietly.

She was immediately furious with herself for fearing for a moment that he would follow her, tingling with shame lest he should think that she thought there was anything at all between them. She looked at him and in his dark eyes read that he knew why she had turned her back on him and that he was hurt. Once more her poise left her and confusion descended. She blushed hotly and turned hastily again to the three doors.

"Which is the Hogans'?" she asked, peering in the dim light at the dirty cards pinned on the doors and striving to steady her voice. Why did he always affect her so, he, the fourth assistant gardener? She must be going crazy, she told herself scornfully.

"The first," said Reuben, calm now, when she was confused, and not moving from the head of the stairs.

"Thank you," said she, once more looking at him.

He was very grave, very much hurt and she felt as guilty as though she had struck a child. She wanted to apologize, but restrained herself from that complete absurdity. Apologize for what?

"I have to wait for my cousins," she explained, all sweetness again, to take that wounded look from his eye. She smiled at him in friendly equality, no longer the great lady addressing a servant.

Reuben's face instantly brightened and eager admiration once more leaped into his eyes. He felt that he should go, but now that she was gracious again, he could not leave her without a last word, a consummation of the tacit peace between them.

"It is pretty well decided that the boys will strike," said he, unable to think of anything to say except of that which was his principal interest in life.

"Strike?" asked Nelly, secretly glad herself that all was again well between them.

"At the button factory," explained Reuben. "I haven't worked there for a long time, but I belong to the Union, and I am going to help at picket duty. You see we have to fight for our rights."

"Yes," agreed Nelly, "but has great-aunt taken any of your rights?"

"Certainly." Reuben was all Socialist at once, burning with righteous anger that others should have what he coveted. "All of you rich look down on us and trample on us —"

"You don't seem trampled on," protested Nelly. "Your mother seemed as happy—"

"Happy," cried Reuben, "happy, dressed in that old calico wrapper with you in your swell silk."

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND
By DAISY DEAN

Pretty nice looking young chap, isn't he? What do you suppose he is whistling?

Probably it's "I'm Fooling You," for the lad's name is Peggy Pearce, and he is one of the most attractive girls to be found at the Triangle-Keystone studios.

Peggy is a native daughter of the sunset state—she was born at Long Beach, Cal., June 4th. What year? Late in the nineteenth century, she says. Her father and mother wanted her to be a musician, and she studied the violin. But Peggy wanted to do something that would please herself more and annoy the neighbors less, so she just up and went to a picture studio and got herself a job.

A blonde five feet four and tipping the scale at 135, Peggy smiles from many a Keystone screen. She is not married. Concerning pets, she says she has a goat, but qualifies this assertion by declaring that it's hers only part of the time. Now, who has Peggy's goat the rest of the time?

Peggy Pearce.

"Cinderella Story" Film Favorite Now

Do you know what a "Cinderella" story is? It is a photoplay story (nowadays) where the heroine starts out as a poor little, abused, ragamuffin girl, and later in the story is "adopted by the old millionaire" and wears just oodles of diamonds and beautiful gowns and things.

Vivian Rich of "Flying A" fame is happiest when she can have "Cinderella" parts. Perhaps the reason she likes them so much is because she is just the type of girl who looks pretty, charming and lovable in rags—and then, when she gets all dressed up in the beautiful clothes of affluence!—she is adorable.

While Vivian has never been obliged to experience the sorrows of child want, she has the sympathetic heart of one who actually had suffered poverty. She wishes she had millions of dollars so that she could go to every poor little child in the big, dirty cities, or to the little, abused farm children who live in unhappy drudgery, and buy them pretty clothes and send them to schools or homes where they would be properly taken care of.

"The Essanay-Chaplin Revue of 1916," the first feature of its kind, will be released through the General Film Service. President Spoor is very enthusiastic about the new film, which includes the best parts of Charlie's howling successes, "His New Job," "A Night Out" and "The Tramp."

The children shoppers of Los Angeles had a treat the other day when a children's afternoon was given them at one of the department stores and the little screen star, Doris Baker, who was guest of honor, appeared and gave a talk to them, afterwards joining them in games and refreshments.

Helen Badgley, the seven-year-old Thanhouser actress, is much elated over the fact that she was allowed to make the ascent in an aeroplane the other day making a scene for "A Modern Monte Cristo," instead of using a dummy, as her director had originally planned.

Mary Pickford fans will be glad to learn that she will be featured with Wilfred Lucas in "A Pueblo Legend," to be released October 10.

PREPAREDNESS!

Preparedness from a military standpoint as it regards the welfare of a nation would not be worth an effort, IF GOOD HEALTH WERE NOT A PLEDGE IN ITS PERFORMANCE. GOOD HEALTH IS THE FUNDAMENTAL PREPAREDNESS FOR ALL HUMAN EFFORT; whether directed in the defense of a country, or applied in the pursuit of peaceful avocations. We can accomplish little indeed without health. The best way to keep health, is not to lose it. S.S.S. IS THE NATIONAL MEDICINAL PREPAREDNESS AGAINST ITS LOSS. S.S.S will rout these outlaws against your health, from the trenches of your blood, and leave you victorious against their invasion. IT'S WEARING ON LEADERS TO TAKE "BOB" ON TOUR

He Insists on Giving Speeches When Crowds Want Them Regardless of Schedule

SEVEN IN SINGLE DAY

Leaders Go Away Mad to Dinner and Leave Bob and Crowd in Packed Hall

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13.—Students of political conditions always are interested in the confidential reports of men in the field to headquarters. Friends and foes of candidates prize such reports. They point to the real effect of the campaign. The friends of Senator La Follette are elated over the revolutions of Charles H. Crownhart's mail bag. It is filled with stories showing the drift of public sentiment. The politicians are not only interested in what a candidate may say, but more in the effect of his speeches upon his audiences. The reports of the La Follette meetings give to his friends a true gauge upon his campaign.

From Dunn County

Mr. Crownhart, after some persuasion, permitted the making public of one of his bag full of reports. It is from Honorable J. H. Millar of Dunn county, a seasoned campaigner. He gives an account of one day's campaigning which is full of interest for the friends and foes of the senator. It was not made for publication or to color the facts and in that lies its value. Mr. Millar's report is typical of the experiences of the men who have been with La Follette in other counties than Dunn. His letter is as follows:

Menomonie, Wis., Oct. 8, 1916.

'Mr. Chas. H. Crownhart,

'Madison, Wis.

"Dear Mr. Crownhart:

"If anyone thinks that Bob is a dead one he has a guess coming, sure enough. The day he spent here we had such crowds as I have never seen in Dunn county.

"When John Hannan called us over the telephone from Madison and said that the senator would come into our county at Knapp, requesting us to meet him there, go thence to Downing, to Colfax and then on to Menomonie for an evening meeting, we talked the matter over and came to the conclusion that to pass through such places as Boyceville, Wheeler, and go to Elk Mound, would lay us open to such severe criticism that we didn't see how we could do it. So we planned to have what might be termed mere greetings at Downing, Boyceville, Wheeler and Elk Mound, reserving Knapp, Colfax and Menomonie for the principal addresses. Fools we were, we didn't reckon with either La Follette or the hosts. Here is the way it turned out:

Behind Schedule

"We found the hall at Knapp crowded, notwithstanding it was in the early morning, and the senator was feeling so darn cockey we couldn't get him out of there. We went to Downing and found a larger crowd than had assembled at Knapp. They filled the hall and jammed the doorway rubbering in from the outside. Here the Senator was determined to go the limit, with the going so good and we had to race our heads off to Boyceville. The streets of Boyceville presented a holiday appearance, the hall was crowded, and being in an upper story, they were standing on the stairs. It was about noon. The senator refused to lunch before his speech that he insisted on making. After he had gone on for some time, he paused in his remarks, with us urging him to quit, to tell us to go on to dinner and that he would get a handout when he got through. 'I have something I want to tell these people,' he said. We went to dinner and when we came back all the apostles of his satanic majesty couldn't have stopped him! We finally got away, after he got good and ready to quit, and when he had lunched on roast pork, dumplings and promiscuous junk, headed for Wheeler. I explained to him that Wheeler was a small place and that we would drive up to the curb in front of one of the stores and after a few remarks hurry on to Colfax. Well, when we came into Wheeler, we looked down the main street and we would see men marching. As we drew up we found the largest crowd we had met up to this time, they had the band out and the entire school population was out, each pupil with flag in hand was lined up before their hall. You can guess the rest. We could not get them out of there no how! We 'phoned into Colfax and asked them to be patient. The crowd couldn't begin to get into the hall at Wheeler. We saw men from Prairie Farm and Ridgeland.

Colfax Crowded

"When we got to Colfax the entire main street was parked with automobiles. We had to get out in the middle of the street. Their new municipal building was crowded to its capacity and out onto the sidewalk. We 'phoned to Elk mound explaining our predicament hoping we might eliminate our meeting there but they wouldn't have it; they were angry as it was.

They said the town was full of people. So we hurried on and reached there about dark, where the senator insisted on giving them a full measure. Anderson tried to get him to quit by handing him his coat, vest and hat, when he lost the thread of his speech and appeared really offended.

"We had planned two full hours' rest between Elk Mound and Menomonie but had only time to eat a hasty supper and speed on to Menomonie where we arrived right on schedule.

"He spoke there to a crowded house for well near three hours. I shall never forget the effect upon the audience when in the discussion of the tariff, he said that the great protectionists Hamilton, Clay, Blaine and McKinley had never made the acquaintance of Morgan. His explanation of the cancerous growth of the trusts in this country and the delicate operation of separating it from the natural tissue being no job for a rough-rider, raised the roof.

A Bite and a Jump

"After his speech we went to a restaurant and when he had gulped down a bowl of bread and milk said he never felt better in his life, and then took a midnight train for Eau Claire.

"Now what do you think of that? Wasn't it downright assassination almost? We were nearly all in and he was apparently as fresh as a daisy. Seven speeches in one day! I felt much as one feels after having had a very narrow escape of some kind. I know this, however, that I will never again, if I have anything to do with it, so long as the good Lord lets me live, expose the senator to such an undertaking.

"I have been in sympathy with the senator since I first met him in the Harrison campaign of 1892. This was really before he tackled the old crowd in this state so I can say that I was in at the beginning of the fight for representative government.

"I have always liked La Follette personally and have never failed to fight for his contentions, but on this trip he simply stole our affections.

"Yours very truly,

"J. D. MILLAR."

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIR GETS THICK WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments. Try this!

Hair stops coming out and every particle of dandruff disappears.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but realy new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

TODAY'S BADGER ODDITY

MILWAUKEE, Wis. Oct. 13.—"Friday the thirteenth" holds no evil omen for Milwaukee clubwomen, who refused to postpone today's meeting of members of different clubs marking the opening of the 1916-17 season of the West Side Mothers' club.

WANTS HUGHES BEARDLESS

FULTON, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Michael Czuba, a master barber, wrote a letter to Candidate Hughes warning him that he'd be in greater favor with the "tonsorial artists" if he clipped a pound or two off the famous Hughes chin adornment.

NOBODY FOOLED ON DOLLAR DAY

The approaching "Dollar Day," which the merchants of La Crosse are to stage on Wednesday, October 18, will afford another opportunity for the friends of the city from outside of its bounds to visit its shops and, incidentally, see their friends—take in the various amusements which are to be offered especially for the occasion and in general enjoy a La Crosse holiday.

One of the gratifying things about occasions of this kind in La Crosse is the way in which people up and down the railroads and up and down the highways of this section, people of all degrees of wealth or the reverse, of all angles of opinion on politics, religion, diversified agricultural and other subjects, pile into the city as though they were all agreed upon one thing at least, that a good time is to be had here by one and all. As a matter of fact, La Crosse has had many evidences in the past that its neighbors do firmly believe just that.

Such a reputation is better than much gold to any town, and is an asset of a very high commercial rating.

It is never gained except in the way this city has gained it, namely, by letting the desired neighbors know exactly what they may expect, socially, commercially, or in whatever direction the occasion may be headed and then by living up to the specification in each and every particular, even to the smallest.

La Crosse, on these occasions, never fools its friends. It has enjoyed the habit of not fooling them. The essence of "Dollar Day" lies largely in the throng of out of town shoppers thereby attracted within the city gates—it's good business to offer bargains to home folks and mighty good business, too. But it is equally good business to get these bargains before the eyes of people throughout La Crosse County and the other nearby counties. More and more folks from the sections mentioned are finding out that it is quite unnecessary to send to Minneapolis, Milwaukee or Chicago for many things that they can't conveniently obtain at the cross-roads. They are discovering that the Parcels Post will bring the needed articles from La Crosse quite as reliably, about as cheaply and in very much less time.

"Dollar Day," furthermore, is more than likely to send them home again pleased with the day's shopping, and as a necessary consequence pleased with the city in which it was done. Thereafter the "Dollar Day" shopper is more or less a booster for the city and retains a warm feeling for its up-to-date mechants, which in turn leads to further business transactions.

Each of the preceding events of this character evoke many questions along the general line of how the merchants could afford to cut the profits absolutely out of so many deals. The frank answer was made that the profits would accrue without fail, although not by sundown or even by daylight the following morning.

The merchants who are today preparing busily for next Wednesday's event are keeping in mind the city's reputation for not fooling its visitors. They have said and are saying that there will be bargains to be had at that time. That is a sufficient guarantee that the word might properly be spelled with a big "B."

Women Save $5 Using Gasoline

Says It Is so easy to dry clean and nothing shrinks, fades or wrinkles.

Save $5 to $10 by doing your own dry cleaning. Here is a simple and inexpensive way to clean and brighten children's coats, suits, caps, woolen garments, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes. furs, neckties, ribbons, silks, satins, lace, yokes, silk shirtwaists, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it readily dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking as clean and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

Any woman can do home dry cleaning in a few moments at little cost and save lots of money. It is as simple and easy as laundering, and you can't make a mistake. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline, and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed envelope for reply. Full name and stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Bad Cough" writes: "I have a bad cough and cold in my head. My ears ache and my whole system seems full of cold inflammation. Please prescribe."

Answer: There is nothing which will relieve your condition more surely and quickly than the use of mentho-laxene syrup. Secure from your druggist 2½ oz. essence mentho-laxene. Mix this with one pint of sugar syrup or honey, and take according to directions. You should receive immediate relief and benefit. The mentho-laxene is slightly laxative, and drives the cold inflammation out of the system.

"Mr. W." asks: "What can I do for a long continued case of constipation? I have headache and dizziness and my complexion is sallow. At night I can't sleep I'm so nervous."

Answer: Continued constipation affects the blood and makes it impure. You need a good blood purifier and laxative. Use three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). They aid digestion, act on the bowels and clean and purify the blood.

* * *

"S. F. E." writes: "I have a very severe case of dandruff. My scalp itches and my hair is coming out in handfulls."

Answer: Get a jar of plain yellow minyol at your drug store. Wash the hair and while still wet rub well into the scalp plain yellow minyol. Rinse out thoroughly and your scalp will feel clean and active. Repeat this treatment three or four times after washing and in a few weeks all your dandruff should disappear and your hair become healthy and soft.

* * *

"Corpulent" asks: "What will overcome corpulency? I am so fat as to be in my own way. I'm short of breath and cannot stand exercise."

Answer: To reduce safely, use five grain arbolone tablets. They are the most reliable reducers I could prescribe. Many are pleased with results from arbolone.

* * *

"Misery" writes: "I have been a wornout man for the past few months. My physical and mental forces are much impaired. I do not seem to be able to think clearly. I am much depressed all the time and my usual ambition and energy seem to have died. I have headache and pains in my back."

Answer: Your condition is identical to thousands of others brought to my attention yearly. Yes, your physical and mental forces are, as you say, much impaired, but you need not be alarmed over your condition. The use of three grain cadomene tablets should soon put you back in normal condition and fit to combat any troubles. Cultivate regular habits of living.

* * *

"Mite" asks: "I seem to be shrinking in size, I am very pale and thin. I do not feel sick, but I'm very weak. I want to increase my weight."

Answer: You are anaemic and the food you eat does not properly nourish your system; three grain hyponuclane tablets cause proper food assimilation and increase weight and strength. Take them with your meals. Sold in sealed packages.

"Mrs. Ella M." writes: "Please prescribe for me again. This time for my kidneys. I have chills and fever, look bad, have puffs under my eyes and my urine is dark in color and of bad odor. Sometimes my back hurts."

You should get almost instant relief from the use of balmwort tablets. I have prescribed these in numerous cases of kidney trouble and they have given excellent results. Most drug stores carry these tablets and they come in sealed tubes with proper directions.

PLAYER PIANO DEMONSTRATION AT THE BERGH PIANO CO.

DEMONSTRATOR WITH VOSE & SONS SHOWING POSSIBILITIES AND EXECUTION

Mr. W. F. Allen of Vose & Sons Piano Co., Boston, Mass., is in the city and is entertaining many people with musical selections at the store of The Bergh Piano Company. It is said that about 100 music lovers visited the music room today. Everyone who hears Mr. Alen perform on the player piano marvels at the wonderful possibilities of execution brought forth from this popular player and set spell-bound all during the demonstrations. Mr. Allen uses on his program mostly selections asked for by his audiences. He will continue till tomorrow evening and it is expected that many more will take advantage of his presence and call at The Bergh Piano Company music room to hear his demonstration. Everybody is welcome. Music conservatories, piano teachers and lecturers are today availing themselves of the adaptability of the player piano to their various demands. Most artists have their favorite composer, whose work they study and with which they acquire familiarity. With the player piano there is no limitation. One has all the best music at their command. It is an incentive to the student, and inspiration to the teacher and satisfies the musical craving of those who have never had the opportunity to acquire a musical education.

OLD BLACK RIVER BRIDGE REMAINS REPAIRS PLANNED

Joint Committee Votes to Make Structure Safe for Present; to Obtain Estimates as to Cost

DRAW MUST PAY

No Effort Is to Be Made to Secure Congressional Action Allowing Bridge Without Draw

The rickety Clinton street bridge over Black river will not be replaced with a new structure for at least two years, although immediate steps are to be taken for repairing the bridge. It was voted by members of the county state aid road and bridge committee, a committee from Campbell township and the finance committee of the city council, meeting Thursday afternoon, to secure estimates from City Engineer George Bradish and the state highway engineering department, as to the cost of placing the bridge in proper condition for travel until a new one is built.

It was the concensus of opinion among those attending the meeting that the bridge would have to be erected with a draw, and a motion to endeavor to secure congressional action which would close Black river to navigation, thereby allowing a bridge without a draw, being quashed. It was pointed out by Alderman Paul Mahoney that should the proposed structure be built without a draw, it would cut off all chance of obtaining federal aid in improving Black river, plans for which have been under way for some time.

It was shown that the difference in cost between the two kinds of bridges would be between $3,000 and $5,000.

ALLIES MAINTAIN RIGHT TO CENSOR MAIL, IS REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—State department officials are studying the identical French and British reply to the American protest of more than four months ago against certain features of the allied mail censorship. The notes, written in French, were delivered to the department late Thursday. Arrangements are being made for their simultaneous publication in the near future by the British, French and American governments.

Although neither department officials nor allied diplomats would discuss the contents of the reply it is learned on good authority that the two governments, taking issue with American contentions, maintained:

That they have a right to censor mail.

That they are justified in forcing neutral ships into British and French ports to censor mail.

That they have a right to seize United States postal money orders of "enemy" destination.

That because all of the belligerents did not ratify The Hague conventions their provisions affecting censorship are not in force.

French Built Corduroy Roads To Prosecute The Campaign Through Winter

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE SOMME FRONT, Oct. 13.—Despite the almost constant rain of the past ten days the French have methodically and uninterruptedly continued their northeastward rush until they have finally captured the dominating points of Sailly-Saillisel, on the crest of the ridge over which runs the Bapaume-Peronne road.

Approaching Sailly-Saillisel from Albert just before the French and British swung forward on Saturday, I discovered why the rains have failed to check the French offensive, which has pushed forward so rapidly that the French have not had time to remove German dead from the trenches around Combles.

With the advent of the autumn rainy season, the French are employing vast armies of men constructing permanent corduroy and macadam roads. These will permit the continuation of operations both fall and winter and will not permit the Germans to take advantage of a winter lull to re-entrench and re-fortify themselves.

Following the British and French advance from the Albert pathway since July 1, I first found the artillery wrecked villages of Becourt, Fricourt, La Boiselle, Contalmaison, Mametz, Montau Aban, Hardecourt, Guillemont, Maurepas, and Combles occupied by veritable armies of French territorials. These soldiers were scrupulously digging out every brick and every stone for road construction.

Approaching Combles we discovered two of the gigantic British "tanks" that had participated in the final attack on the town, debouching from Lauze wood.

From a point beyond Combles, we saw the final dash of French and British infantry that drove the Germans from the positions about Sailly. German gunners were throwing up a solid wall of barrage fire along the nine mile front extending from Morval to Bouchavesnes in an effort to prevent the impending attack. When the barrage reached its greatest intensity, the view was entirely cut off by a curtain of bursting shells, flames, smoke and clouds of earth and dust shooting skyward. It was impossible to see the slightest detail of the attack which the officer had brought us to see.

Yet through this solid sheet of shell fire French and British infantry dashed with such irresistible spirit that though the attack was merely intended to occupy some trenches facing Sailly, the troops dashed on, extending their lines twelve hundred yards northeast of Morval, occupying the Peronne-Bapaume road to within 200 yards of Sailly and also positions south of the village.

WHAT YOUR OWN NEIGHBORS SAY OF TANLAC IS WHAT COUNTS

TO NATION'S DEFENSE PEOPLE MUST PLEDGE INDIVIDUAL STRENGTH

Personal Protection is Policy Endorsed by Thousands of American Men and Women.

To prepare itself adequately for defense a nation works from within. It is not enough to station guns and soldiers in frontier forts. The nation must have strength back of those outer fortifications.

The man who makes the gun and the woman who feeds the man that makes the gun are even more important than the man who shoots the gun.

The human body is like a nation. It is not enough to have a very hard fist or one muscle as large as a cocoanut. That would not secure the body from its worst foes—weakness, nervousness, disease. The body to be adequately prepared, must work from within. To make the big, hard fist, and the large muscle count there must be a digestive system that keeps the body strong, robust, vigorous, affording tissue for reserve energy, rich, pure, blood, nerves as true and sure as steel.

A body well kept up to that standard of strength can fight off disease—it can actually use the big fist, too; it can keep its owner ever ready for to do his work. Health is personal protection against the most dangerous enemies.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women have won back health by taking Tanlac, the reconstructive tonic, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer. Over two hundred and fifty thousand men and women—over a quarter of a million people—have publicly indorsed it because it gave them practical benefits.

These men and women find they fortify themselves against disease in a practical way by taking Tanlac to correct faults in their digestive apparatus to tone inactive livers, to ease strained kidneys, to stimulate the appetite, and assimilation, rebuild health and strength; through the stomach, blood and nerves, so that they can eat, sleep, work and play with pleasure and profit; in other words, so that they can be fully and joyously alive while they are living.

"I feel like a new man"—"I am a different woman"—"I can eat anything I want now"—"My color has come back"—"I can eat meat, potatoes, pie, everything now"—"My work is a pleasure now"—"I sleep like a baby"—"Life is a real joy now"—"Tanlac has put me back on the pay roll"—"I indorse Tanlac because I feel it is a duty to make known Tanlac's benefits to me so that others may get relief"—those are sentiments that are expressed over and over in the public endorsement of Tanlac.

JUST LIKE HAVING DREAM COME TRUE

Kenosha Woman Tells of Change That Came Over Her Almost Overnight

You rarely hear of a dream coming true and yet the recent experience of Mrs. J. E. Kosak, a well known Kenosha woman who lives at 251 Chicago street, amounts to almost the same thing. Mrs. Kosak, who is the wife of a cigar maker, had suffered from ill health for a long time and then suddenly one day found herself all right again. When seen she made this statement recently:

"I used to be unable to eat anything without being terribly distressed afterwards. I would have a dull heavy feeling in my stomach. I had become very nervous and slept badly.

"When I was at my worst stage not long ago I read of Tanlac, the new tonic, and started using it. I soon regained my appetite and my digestion got better. I now can eat anything I want, have loads of energy and feel fine. Tanlac has helped me more than anything and I can recommend it heartily."

WAS TOO TIRED TO GET OUT OF BED

RACINE WOMAN IN BAD CONDITION UNTIL SHE USED TANLAC. IS ALL RIGHT AGAIN

Mrs. T. Ganier, of 605 Grand Ave., Racine, is only too glad to endorse Tanlac, the new medicine, because she has used it with splendid results. This is the statement she made a few days ago:

"I was generally run down, due to indigestion, rheumatism and kidney trouble. I was simply in an awful condition. I had poor circulation and was subject to chills. I also had sick headaches which would simply lay me out. I was so tired that in the mornings I could hardly drag myself out of bed. When I would sit down I could only get up with the greatest effort. I used to have dizzy spells and these alarmed me a great deal. On account of my poor circulation my limbs would go to sleep easily.

"After reading Tanlac testimonials in the paper, I got a bottle and began using it. After one bottle I felt a great deal better. My stomach especially got in better condition and my digestion improved. I am now free from those dizzy spells since using Tanlac. I feel stronger and have lots more energy and ambition. Until I used Tanlac I was "all in" but now I feel like an entirely different person. I am certainly glad of this opportunity to endorse the "Master Medicine" because I believe that it is a good remedy for everybody."

Tanlac the premier preparation which was of such great benefit to Mrs. Ganier and which is daily helping hundreds of Wisconsin people is purely vegetable in composition and contains no harmful drugs or minerals. It builds the body back to health in a very short time.

DOUBT ENDS WHEN HE TRIES TANLAC

Well Known Confectioner Describes Benefits That He Has Derived.

A. Pelkin, well known Green Bay confectioner, living at 422 Doty street, declared recently that he was now a strong booster for the premier preparation.

"I was all run down in every way," said Mr. Pelkin in a recent interciew. "I was nervous and did not sleep well. My digestion was bad. I had little or no appetite. I was subject to severe headaches. I had a listless half-sick, worn-out feeling all the time and had no energy or ambition. I was not sick enough to be in bed and yet at the same time, I never felt strong and well at any time.

"I did not know what to do to get relief until one day a good friend of mine told me about Tanlac. "Why don't you get a bottle and give it a trial?" he said. "You won't regret it, I'm sure." I tok his advice and started using the medicine. Soon I was astonished to notice that I was feeling better. My appetite returned and my digestion improved. I started sleeping soundly every night and in the mornings would wake up feeling much refreshed. It was a pleasant change for me. Now I tell all my friends about Tanlac and have started many of them to using the remedy."

WOMAN REFUSED TO GIVE UP AND FINALLY WON OUT

MRS. SANTEMA GOT RELIEF BY USING TANLAC AFTER OTHER MEDICINES FAILED

It gives Mrs. John Santema, of 1431 Center street, Racine, pleasure to endorse Tanlac, the new vegetable tonic and system builder, because she has used the medicine and has been greatly benefited by it. This is what she says about the remedy:

"After suffering for a long time from nervousness and stomach trouple, I am glad to say that Tanlac has relieved me. I also had catarrh and was told that I had catarrh of the stomach. I was in a bad condition. After eating I used to be terribly distressed. I would have a heavy feeling and pain in my chest which was caused, I believe, by gas forming. I had a poor appetite. I did not sleep well. Any excitement was bad for me because it would upset me dreadfully. I always felt tired out and would be completely exhausted by the least exertion.

"Some time ago, after reading about Tanlac and its good work, I got a bottle to try. I had tried everything else but just didn't like to give up. Nothing before had helped me but, to my great delight, I noticed a big improvement soon after I began using Tanlac. I got rid of those pains in my chest and stomach and began to have a better appetite as well as better digestion. My nerves soon quieted down and I was again able to sleep soundly. Besides that, I gained in strength and energy until now I always feel fit for anything. i can certainly say a good word for Tanlac because it has helped me lots. I always endorse it to everyone."

RUMERY EXPLAINS ALL TO FRIENDS

Friends of Arthur Rumery of R. R. No. 4, Racine, Wis., are commenting on the wonderful change that has come over him within the past few days. A few days ago someone asked him to explain it and this is the statement he made:

"You know that for the past ten years I have been a sick man suffering from kidney trouble. I was in bad shape and could get no relief. I slept badly and in the mornings would always be half sick and nauseated. Gas would form after eating and caused me much bother. For days at a time I would be confined to my bed. I had no appetite and little energy. My digestion was impaired. I was subject to headaches—the dull kind that would last anywhere from one to four or five days. Naturally I got all run down and looked badly.

"Well, I kept trying to find something that would help me and just a few days ago I did find it. Tanlac, the new medicine, did the work for me. I can recommend it to everyone because it has made a different man of me. I sleep well, eat well and feel fine. My kidneys do not bother me and I can do my work better and with less effort."

POPULAR FAVOR WON BY TESTS AND PROOF OF ITS REAL MERITS

MISS DE CLAIRE RECOGNIZES THE MERIT OF TANLAC

YOUNG WOMAN USES NEW MEDICINE WITH WONDERFUL RESULTS

Another to recognize the superior merit of Tanlac through personal use of the medicine, is Miss Lelia De Claire, of 744 College avenue, Racine. Miss De Claire states that Tanlac has restored her health and she is most enthusiastic about the remedy. This is what she says:

"I suffered from nerve exhaustion and indigestion and was in a bad condition. I used to have sleepless nights and would get up in the mornings too tired and let down to move even. All day long I would have this worn out feeling and it was simply terrible. I also had a pain in the back of my neck which would annoy me greatly. I had a poor appetite and never cared anything about going to the table even. But when I did eat, I would always feel perfectly miserable afterwards.

"I had several friends who had used Tanlac and on their advice I got a bottle. I improved from the first dost and, after using one bottle, I felt fine again. I now sleep soundly every night and I can't tell you what a great relief it is. I eat heartily of anything I want but am never troubled by indigestion. I am able to do a day's work without feeling all tuckered out. Tanlac has helped me wonderfully and I hope others will use it and get the same results."

Tanlac, the great tonic and invigorator, is good for both young and old. It strengthens and builds up the system putting it in good condition to withstand disease.

NIGHTS OF HORROR ARE NOW ENDED

"I was simply all run down, nervous and discouraged and hardly knew what to do," began Mrs. A. Lefebvre, of 318 S. Madison street, Green Bay, in a recent interview. "I suffered from stomach trouble and could, apparently, get no relief. I was so nervous that I could stand no excitement and besides I did not sleep well at night. I would often wake up three or four times during the night. I was subject to terrible headaches, oto. My food did not digest well at all, and I rarely had any appetite.

"When a few weeks ago, a friend advised me to begin using Tanlac, the new medicine, I at first did not have much faith because I had tried many remedies without success. I finally consented, however, and was surprised at the quick benefits I derived from the medicine. It soon braced me up and put me back on my feet. I now can eat heartily without suffering afterwards. I sleep well because my nerves are again steady. I can certainly praise Tanlac as a high class tonic."

Advertising Helps, But Tanlac Triumphs Through Words of its Users, Says the Tanlac Man.

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is being produced at the Tanlac Laboratories at the rate of nearly five million bottles a year.

The demand for Tanlac is greater than the supply.

Those facts constitute the record of the most popular reconstruction tonic ever offered the people. The only explanation of Tanlac's triumphs is Tanlac's merit. Only true worth could gain and sustain the reputation which Tanlac won from the very first day the first bottle was taken from the drug store.

"Such enormous sales mean but one thing—that is, merit," declared the Tanlac representative. "Tanlac is well advertised, advertised truthfully, thoroughly and efficiently. But advertising alone would not produce Tanlac's popularity.

"Back of Tanlac's triumphs in the drug store stand Tanlac's triumphs in the home. It is what the neighbors say about Tanlac that counts. Advertising may sell one bottle, but the person who gets and uses that bottle is the person that sells a dozen bottles.

"One person benefited by Tanlac may tell a score or even a hundred people about the medicine that helped them. People relieved from distressing and dangerous illness by Tanlac just cannot keep their experience with Tanlac to themselves—they talk about it to every friend and acquaintance and stranger.

"Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching and bloating from gas, sourness and soreness of the stomach, inactive liver, biliousness, dizziness, kidney troubles, pains in the side and back, headaches, "ringing in the ears," "spots before the eyes," weakness, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, falling off of weight, foul breath, coated tongue, and irritability, catarrhal affections of the mucous membrane—when people are relieved of those ailments, as thousands have been by Tanlac, it is natural for them to talk about Tanlac.

"People talk about Tanlac because Tanlac give them something worth talking about, better digestion, more strength, more energy and ambition, more lasting breath.

"That explains Tanlac's triumphs in Green Bay and in other cities of the United States."

AGENTS WANTED IN WISCONSIN

OPPORTUNITY TO SECURE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO SELL TANLAC

Agents are wanted in every town in Wisconsin to sell Tanlac, the new "Master Medicine" now causing such a sensation all over the country. Exclusive agancies are awarded to only one drug store in each city or town. Local advertising will be done in the towns where agents are appointed.

That Tanlac is by far the most popular thing of its kind ever offered is being proven every day by the enormous demand for the premier preparation. In Michigan alone over 100,000 bottles were sold in the past twelve months. . . In other state all over the country the demand is equally as great. The medicine is being made in the great laboratories at Dayton at the rate of nearly five million bottles per year.

In order to secure an exclusive agency, commnicate at once with the P. G. Powell Co., 803 Michigan Blvd. Bldg. Chicago, Ill., of with the Milwaukee Drug Co., Milwaukee.

TANLAC "The Master Medicine"

May be obtained in La Crosse at C. A. BEGUN'S DRUG STORE, Majestic Building. J. C. HENDERSON, a personal representative of the great medicine is on hand at the store daily to meet the public and explain all about Tanlac. Stop in and find out for yourself.

GIVES ADVICE TO ALL HER FRIENDS

Oshkosh Woman Tells What Tanlac Did for Her and Advises All To Try It

"I recommend Tanlac to all my friends because it has helped me and I know what it will do," began Mrs. Katherine Foss, recently, while telling of her experience with the new medicine. Mrs. Foss is a well known Oshkosh woman, living at 241 Pearl street. "I suffered terribly from biliousness and liver trouble," she continued, "and was generally run down in every way. I had no appetite and my digestion was poor. I would get tired out whenever I exerted myself and was also quite nervous. I slept badly at nights. I took Tanlac on the recommendation of a friend and will say right here that it helped me wonderfully. I now feel much better than I did because I now have a good appetite, good digestion, and more strength and energy than I have known in years. I always take every occasion to recommend Tanlac to my friends and I am sure that they will get relief if they use the medicine as directed.

Tanlac is made mainly from roots, herbs and berries and is compounded by skilled chemists so as to give the best results in stomach, liver and kidney ailments as wel as rheumatism and catarrh. Tanlac is nature's own remedy. It contains no harmful drugs or injurious minerals and 'ts action while quick and effective is without any bad after effects. Hundreds of people have taken Tanlac with good results and are daily telling their friends and neighbors about this truly great remedy.

THOUGHT SHE HAD SWALLOWED LEAD

Fond du Lac Woman Tells of a Remarkable Experience She Has Just Had

Mrs. Rose Tock, of 31 South Hickory street, Fond du Lac, was unable to understand why she should always feel tired and nervous. Now she understands since she has found relief from this trouble.

"I did not know what caused me to feel so no account," Mrs. Tock said recently. "I was nervous and depressed. My stomach was out of order and I had indigestion. In fact, nothing I ate agreed with me and I would feel as though I had swallowed a lead weight. I suffered from terrible sick headaches and fainting spells. I was so weak at times that I could hardly stand up. I felt discouraged and melancholy without any apparent reason.

"I was persuaded to try Tanlac by a friend. Since using the medicine I feel like a different woman. I feel more like working because I have lots of energy. I do not have any more fainting spells and have lots of strength. I can digest my food well, am not so nervous and sleep much better. I always have a good word to say for Tanlac because I am grateful for what it did for me."

Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive, appetizer and invigorator. Hundreds testify that they have found it beneficial in cases of stomach, liver and kidney disorders as well as catarrh.

MISS WILCOX FINDS ROAD OF HAPPINESS

Tells Story That Others May Profit By Her Recent Experience

If for any reason you doubt the efficacy of Tanlac, the new system builder and blood tonic, read the statement of Miss N. Wilcox, of 1135 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis. She says:

"I was a victim of a variety of ills the combination of which caused me to become listless and run down and not fit for anything. I had catarrh and the constant droppings in my throat served to upset my stomach, give me a bad breath and cause me to feel nauseated in the mornings. Everything I ate would not rest well but would cause me acute distress soon aftewards. Gas would form almost immediately. Disordered kidneys caused me so much pain that I could hardly bear it at times.

"I first heard of Tanlac while visiting in Indiana some time ago and when the medicine was introduced here I got a bottle and started using it. I have only taken one bottle but can truthfully say that I feel like a different person. I have more energy and ambition and feel full of life and vigor all the time. I can retire at night and sleep without waking up four or five times. I am not nearly so nervous. My catarrh is relieved and I can eat anything without suffering. I have more interest in life and believe that I am on the road to complete recovery. I can recommend Tanlac to all because I know that is an honest medicine and has much merit."

LIFE ATTRACTIVE TO WOMEN AGAIN

Mrs. O. Hammond Now Enjoys Good Health Since Using New Medicine, Tanlac.

Mrs. Orville Hammond of 729 Sixth street, Racine, champions Tanlac, the premier preparation. This is what she says about the great remedy:

"I was in a wretched condition from nervousness and indigestion and was generally run down," she said when seen a few days ago.—"I hardly had enough energy to get around and was easily exhausted. I always felt drowsy and would have a heavy feeling after eating. Gas troubled me lots—I often was afflicted with blinding headaches."

"I tried all kinds of medicines and treatments but with the same discouraging results. I never got any better. Several friends told me about Tanlac and what it was doing, but at first I didn't try the remedy. One day, however, after reading a Tanlac testimonial, I said "I don't believe so many people would endorse this medicine until it had merit; with that I went to the drug store and got a bottle. I was delighted to see, after taking one-half bottle, a decided change in my condition. I soon got rid of that drowsy, heavy feeling and my digestion improved. I have been gaining strength steadily. My nerves are better and I sleep soundly every night. I don't worry over trifles as I formerly was accustomed to do. I am all right now and want every sufferer to know what Tanlac has done for me."

PLEASANT STORY TOLD BY WOMEN

Mrs. Jas. Pelnarsh Describes Benefits She Has Derived From Use of Tanlac.

Mrs. Jas. Pelnarsh, a popular and widely known Oshkosh woman residing at 54 Pleasant avenue, relates an interesting experience she recently had with Tanlac, the new medicine. This is what she says:

"For some time I have been suffering from stomach and kidney disorders and in addition, was extremely nervous. I had a very poor appetite and my digestion was not very good. I was run down badly and seemed to lack strength and energy. I would get worn out with the least exertion. I slept poorly at night often waking up several times and finding it hard to get back to sleep again.

"I tried Tanlac for a time and under the treatment I improved very rapidly. I now have a good appetite and digestion and feel built up in many ways. I have more strength and vigor and feel that I can conscientiously recommend the medicine to everybody who suffers. It certainly did the work for me."

Tanlac which gains its great favor by doing what is claimed for it, is a vegetable tonic so compounded as to give the best results in all cases of stomach, kidney and liver trouble, rheumatism, catarrh, impoverished blood, unsound sleep and to rapidly build up the body back to health.

BAYONNE FEARS DAY MAY BECOME A BLACK FRIDAY

Three Now Dead in the Riots Growing Out of Labor Troubles of Oil Men

POLICE ARE OPTIMISTIC

Believe Situation Better in Control Than at Any Other Time Since Start of Trouble

BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 13.—Though fearing Friday the thirteenth might prove to be bloody Friday, police and citizens tried to quell the oil men's strike without calling militia.

The strikers were in an ugly mood while police and special deputies under Fighting Dan Cady, six foot police inspector, were ready for anything.

Throwing their lines into the bloody zone of the Hook and Gridiron police and deputies cowed the strikers.

Nine men were arrested on various charges. One of them, the police said, admitted he was a sniper.

There was some sniping, but the wild riots of previous days were lacking, though there was by no means any certainty that the bloodshed is ended.

The sniper arrested was "Pool Ball" Pereprin who under pressure admitted he had done some firing yesterday.

The police claimed to have better control than heretofore, in view of their invasion of the strikers' territory and their closing of saloons. But, despite dead-lines and gun play, the territory actually controlled by strikers was a block broader than previously. Strikers, heavily armed, patrolled this territory, prepared for further fighting. Riots of the afternoon Thursday, when a bystander was killed and many injured, were not repeated late at night, but the city was nervous about the future.

Early Friday the body of an unidentified man, apparently a Slav—the third person killed—was found at 84 West Nineteenth street with a bullet wound over the right eye. Investigation led to the belief that the man was a worker of the General Chemical company who had tried to get strikers to return to their labors for a bonus. A saloonkeeper reported the man had been in for a drink about midnight, that he heard a shot soon after, that ten men ran away directly afterward.

Sheriff Eugene Kinkead, the man who ended a previous strike in the bloody Hook and Gridiron sections—within sight of New York—said he would keep hands off the strike unless it got beyond control. Then, he said, he would send in about 200 picked men for a clean-up campaign.

Police early in the day drove off strikers approaching the Tidewater Oil company's plant and a Standard Oil building. There were several arrests over night for looting and minor disturbances.

The authorities planned a raid through the strike zone in an effort to round up arms hidden in the laborers' homes.

TO HAVE EUGENICS CLINIC

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 13.—Dan Cupid had a setback Friday when it was announced that Mount Sinai hospital, Cleveland's newest medical institution, would open a clinic for eugenics.

Marriages, guaranteed to be happy and a better race of Clevelanders is the object of the clinic.

ARRESTED FOR FRAUD

BIG NAMES UPON SPEAKER LIST IN TEACHERS' MEET

Big Educational Experts from Illinois Are Included on the Program

MANY FROM THE STATE

Normals and University Send Well-known Talent to Discuss Conditions

The Western Wisconsin Teachers' association, which is composed of teachers in the rural and city elementary and secondary schools in this part of Wisconsin, is to have an unusually helpful and inspiring program at its annual meeting in La Crosse on October 27 and 28. Cooperation brings results. The teachers of western Wisconsin have co-operated to bring about this program. Now they need but attend the meeting to reap the fruits of their united efforts.

Among the names on the list of speakers are several whose work has won nation-wide attention. President David Felmley of Normal university, Normal, Ill., will address the teachers. While his specialty used to be the teaching of mathematics, his active part in the fight for some of the best reform legislation in the state of Illinois and his honorary degree of doctor of laws conferred on him by the university of his state, attest to his versatility of powers.

From the same state comes to the meeting Professor G. M. Whipple, head of the department of education in the University of Illinois. Beside addressing the general meeting, he is to conduct a round table for superintendents and principals wherein attention will be directed to the value of certain tests and scales in ascertaining efficiency of school work.

President Harvey Schofield of the state normal school at Eau Claire will have a message for the high school teachers that those who know him will not be willing to miss, and those who dod not know him cannot afford to miss. His experience as an educator has been so wide and his success so marked that his massage is sure to be of great value to his listeners.

For the especial benefit of teachers interested in certain lines of work are coming Professor Wayland J. Chase of the University of Wisconsin department of history, Professor Warren E. Hicks, head of the industrial work of the state department of education, Miss Amy Bronsky, state inspector of home economics in the recently established industrial schools. Each of these speakers is an expert in his chosen line of work. Professor Chase needs no introduction to Wisconsin teachers of history, many of whom have sat at his feet. Miss Amy Bronsky is said to be one of the most efficient and sympathetic inspectors of graded schools that the state has ever had.

These are only some of the speakers; others are still being added to the list. Special music, consisting of chorus and solo work, is being prepared under the direction of Professor R. A. Morgan, director of music in the La Crosse normal school. No school teacher in western Wisconsin should turn school-ward on October 27; all should head toward this inspiring meeting in La Crosse.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will reside in Minneapolis.

BREAD PRICES RAISE WHILE LOAF SHRINKS IS FEDERAL REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Bread prices increased 11 per cent between May 15 and September 15—and the prices since then have been climbing steadily, the bureau of labor statistics reported Friday. Also, the bureau found, the size of the loaf has been shrinking.

Wheat prices rose during the period thirty-four per cent, wholesale flour prices thirty-seven per cent, and retail flour prices twenty-three per cent.

Literary People Long Lived.

Three score and ten has been a mere nothing so far as ages go among prominent American literary persons, a leading instance being Mrs. Amelia Josephine Barr, who published a novel at eighty-five. Among others, Charles W. Eliot is eighty-two, John Burroughs seventy-nine, Col. Henry Watterson, seventy-six, Henry Hills Alden and William Dean Howells eighty, Lyman Abbott eighty-one, and George W. Cable seventy-one.

BRITISH STEAMER STOPPED BY U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The British steamship City of Madras was overhauled off Ambrose channel lightship Thursday night by the United States torpedo boat destroyer Sterrett and brought back to Clifton, Staten Island, after it had ignored the war vessel's signal to stop when it left quarantine.

New York navy yard officers disclaimed all knowledge of the Sterrett's action.

Mythical Colorado Town.

A certain well-known theatrical manager had a company in the West that had an open week, and as the manager didn't wish to lay the company off for the entire week he wired the manager of a Denver theater to secure him some dates in neighboring towns. The Denver manager wired back a list of open dates, among which were these: Cripple Creek, March 2, lay off third; Fort Collins, fourth. The telegraph operator mixed the two words, "lay off" and spelled it "Layhoff." The New York manager, as soon as he received the wire took out a map of Colorado and began to figure on the railroad movements. He could not find the town "Layhoff." He consulted time tables, larger maps, and even called upon his friends to see if they knew of the town. They all professed ignorance, so at last he wired back. "How will I find 'Layhoff?'" The Denver manager received the telegram and, as by some providence, the two words were separated and spelled correctly, he wired back: "I think you will find many of them expensive."

Jackal Broth as a Delicacy.

Camel flesh does not strike the western palate as a delectable dish, but it certainly seems preferable to jackal. Yet there are parts of Morocco, we are told by a French visitor, where jackal broth is highly esteemed as a table delicacy. A friendly sheik dissented vehemently when it was intimated that as jackals feed on carrion the broth must have a horrible flavor. "It is only a question of knowing how to prepare it," he said. "You put the jackal, skin and all, for two hours into a vessel of boiling water, then transfer it to another vessel. This process is repeated three times. After ten hours' boiling in five different waters the carrion flavor disappears and the broth is delicious."

Optimistic Thought.

It is not difficult for little minds to attain splendid situations.

LA CROSSE TO OBSERVE DAYS FOR ARMENIANS

Mayor Arthur A. Bentley has been asked by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, to suggest to the people of La Crosse that October 21 and 22 be observed as relief days for the Armenians and Syrians. The request is also made to Governor Philipp to set aside the days for observation throughout the days.

CREAM CITY MAN NAMED TO HEAD STATE BAPTSTS toastmaster and the speakers of the evening occupied seats at a table on the platform.

The first speaker was Owen Whisler, of La Crosse, president of the La Crosse District Young People's societies, who issued a ringing call to service in the church on the part of young people, stating that as it was the young people of today who must take up the burden when it is laid down by the older church members. Miss Helen Crissman, state field secretary of the World Wide Guild, an organization of Baptist girls, spoke more particularly to the young women present, showing how girls can help to advance the kingdom of God. Other speakers included Dr. Wolf and Professor La Rue, of Wayland Academy, Beaver Dam.

Music was furnished by the Norwegian Lutheran church band, a feature of this part of the program being the singing of the Wisconsin Rally Song the words of which were adapted to the the tune of "On, Wisnocsin."

Rain Prevents Parade

Following the program the young people adjourned to the Baptist church to be present at the closing session of the convention. A parade through the downtown streets, the band leading, had been planned, but was given up on acount of the heavy rain.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

HALL BURNS AFTER RALLY

OSHKOSH, Wis., Oct. 13.—The town hall of Waukau, this county, was destroyed by fire late Thursday night following a democratic rally held there. A neighborhood residence was also destroyed by the flames but a bucket brigade saved the postoffice and Methodist church. The loss is $4,500.

BIBLICAL AXIOM TEACHERS' TOPIC IN WAUSAUMEET

WAUSAU, Wis., Oct. 13.—"Spare the rod and spoil the child," was one of the subjects informally discussed here at the fourth annual session of the Central Wisconsin Teachers' association. Between six and seven hundred teachers were present when the convention opened its two day meet.

Another interesting subject discussed was the teaching of classical literature to high school students. Miss Grace Andrews of Marshfield, Wis., addressed the teachers of the subject under the title of "Justifying the Teaching of Chaucer and King Henry V. to the Patron Who Knows Nothing of Either, but Who Wants Appreciable Results."

At Friday's meeting it is planned to present a proposition to the members to federate the various educational associations of the state for their mutual betterment. A member of the executive committee will be elected by the teachers for a five year term at the meeting. The day sessions will be held at the high school and the evening lecture will be held at the M. E. church.

GERMAN INDUSTRY FAVORS RUTHLESS U-BOAT WARFARE

Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg Faces Opposition of Hotbeds of Von Tirpitzism

WANT FIGHT TO FINISH

Industrial Leaders Declare They Are Ready to Fight Until Germany Wins

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

ODUSSELDORF, Germany, Oct. 13.—Nearly every big industrial leader in the Rhine valey industrial center, which is Germany's Pittsburgh, favors ruthless submarine warfare, regardless of the interests of the United States.

Chancellor von Bethman-Hollweg faces the opposition of the industrial interests of both the Rhine and Westfalian provinces, hot-beds of Von Tirpitzism. These interests believe that they they may not convince the government now they will win later. They are now centering their hopes of winning Field Marshall von Hindenburg to their side.

"The war must be fought to a finish," said the Westfaelische Zeitung, which fairly represents the sentiment of the district in this respect.

"Either Germany or England must win and the interests here on the Rhine are ready to fight until Germany wins."

Directors of Germany's steel trust and other millionaires in this industrial county declare unreservedly that Germany will not make peace until England asks terms. The Rhineland press is still discussing War Secretary Lloyd George's statement to the United Press that the allies must carry the war to a "knockout" and they hold that this statement justifies their contention, that Germany must use every possible weapon against England. The activities of the U-53 have greatly increased their faith in the possibilities of unlimited submarining.

August Thyssen, Germany's Carnegie, declared in an interview at Homborn-on-Rhine, that since England is still the great sea power, it was necessary for Germany to operate submarines along the Canadian and American coasts to overcome this advantage.

WILSON DENOUNCES HUGHES FOR REVIVING SECTIONAL FEELING

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13.—Assailing Charles E. Hughes personally for the first time in the campaign, President Wilson Thursday said:

"Any man who revives sectionalism in this country is unworthy of the confidence of the nation."

The great crowd cheered loudly for several minutes.

"I did not come here to talk politics as you well know," the president suddenly broke out, during a plea for good roads, "but I must say this," and he spoke of the "sectionalism" issue raised by his political opponents.

"The man who raises this cry of sectionalism," he said, "shows his own provincial character, his own ignorance. It is the depth of anti-patriotic feeling."

LOSES $8,000 WHEN U-53 SINKS SHIP

Miss Louise C. Howley.

Miss Louise C. Howley was one of the passengers on the steamer Stephano, which was sunk by the German submarine U-53. She had with her $8,000 in cash, which went down with the ship. This picture, which was taken after she was landed by a rescue ship in Newport, R. I., shows her broadly smiling. She is happy to have escaped with her life, beside which the $8,000 in money seems trifling.

A FINE TREATMENT CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

Catarrh is such an insidious disease and has become so prevalent during the past few years that its treatment should be understood by all.

Science has fully proved that Catarrh is a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers, salves and nose douches seldom if ever give lasting benefit and often drive the disease further down the air passages and into the lungs.

If you have Catarrh or Catarrhal deafness or head-noises, go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved, take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head-noises, clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and mucus stop dropping into the throat.

This treatment has a slight tonic action which makes it especially effective in cases where the blood has become thin and weak. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every person who wishes to be free from this destructive disease should give this treatment a trial.

Contradicting Shakespeare.

Shakespeare's contention that "there was never yet a philosopher who could endure the toothache patiently" was disproved by Canon Liddon. After an experience that would have closed the mouths of most of us, Liddon found it possible to write to a friend: "I have been quite laid up with trouble with my few remaining teeth, of which I had five taken out the day before yesterday. As only four remain, this particular experience cannot be repeated in this present life." This is a classic instance of the triumph of philosophy over pain.

MURDER ACCIDENT IN CERTAIN LINES OF EMPLOYMENT

Industrial Commission Awards Compensation for Taxi-driver Killed by His Fare

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13.—Holding that there is a special hazard of assault in such employments as night watchman, game warden, bank cashier and others, the industrial commission has awarded compensation to the widow of an Oshkosh taxi-driver who was murdered and robbed while on duty.

Early in the morning of July 4 last, George J. Bischoff, a taxi-driver for the Bangs Rapid Transfer company of Oshkosh was hired to drive a stranger to the outskirts of the city. At 3 o'clock in the morning his body was found sitting at the wheel of his taxi, the engine of which was still running. His right trousers' pocket was turned inside out and his money gone. A bullet through the back of the head had caused death.

In awarding death compensation to the widow, the commission says: "It was Bischoff's duty to go where he was directed, with friend or stranger, and without inquiry. Danger from assault was a hazard peculiar to the respondent's business, just as clearly as are the exposed gears in a machine shop a hazzard in that industry."

Mother Went Down Foot.

"Mother, how does salt grow?" asked Katherine. Mother, who was not up on the subject of minerals, and not wishing to show her ignorance, said: "Now what is the use of asking about it. Why not plant some and find out?"

LLOYD GEORGE SQUELCHES OPPONENTS IN COMMONS

By ED L. KEEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Lloyd George's crushing rejoinder to Richard Holt, one of his critics, in commons Wednesday, received equal attention from the newspapers Thursday with Premier Asquith's statement that here must be no "precarious and dishonoring compromise masquerading under the name of peace."

Holt criticised the war secretary's recent statement on peace to the United Press. He complained that Lloyd George used sporting terms like the now famous "knockout" expression, that his statements were uncompromising and that the war minister was not the proper person to express the government's views on foreign policies.

Turning directly toward Holt, Lloyd George said:

"What you really object to is not the manner, but the pith and purport of this interview."

The general impression is that in making this quick retort to his critics, Lloyd George effectively scotched a hostile clique, which though small, is somewhat mischievous.

NORTH AND SOUTH AMATEUR TALENT TO BE COMPARED

Comparative tests of amateur talent of the north and south sides will be conducted at the Strand theater Friday evening, when Manager Mc-Williams has arranged a unique variation of his "amateur night" special. Entries are limited to six, and there is said to be keen competition among the various performers for places on the program. Three prizes are offered for the best of the six, the choice to be by acclamation.

In addition there is to be a ten-reel program of movies, including an interesting magazine film, a dual-reel western thriller called "The Sheriff of Plumas", and a five-part comedy-drama "The Arrival of Perpetua", in which Miss Vivian Martin is starred.

DYSPEPSIA OF WOMEN

Special Treatment Required.

Many women suffer from a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms are similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines usually prescribed do not restore the patient's normal condition.

There seems to be a kind of dyspepsia caused by derangement of the female organism. While this appears to be the same as ordinary indigestion it can be relieved only by a medicine which, besides acting as a stomach tonic, is good for female ailments. Read what such a medicine did for Mrs. Williams :—

She says:—"Before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with dyspepsia and bearing down pains in my back and sides, and after my meals my stomach would bloat up till I could scarcely get my breath. At times I was so weak I could hardly stand on my feet and I looked hollow-eyed and my skin was yellow. Now I have a good color, have gained in every way and can do my work without any pains. I think it is the best medicine on earth for stomach troubles of women."—Mrs. NELLIE WILLIAMS, 31 West 3d Street, New Albany, Ind.

TWO DIE IN WRECK

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 13.—Two men were killed outright and sixteen others were injured when a Western Maryland excursion train enroute to Hagerstown ran head-on into the "labor train," in the Knob Mount yards Thursday. The dead are:

Benjamin Fairchild of Cumberland, conductor on the labor train.

Charles H. Hinkle, aged 26, of Cumberland, brakeman on the labor train.

Edward Meyer of Piedmont, W. Va., is expected to die.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 13.—Plans for the establishment of a $1,000,000 electric advertising device company here are being considered by Frank A. Gritt, president of the National Retailers Advertising corporation, Kansas City.

SHE SEES JEALOUSY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 13.—Mrs. Ruth Rave, Milwaukee's jitney driver, says the reason she was recently arrested for speeding is because other jitney drivers are jealous of her.

"They think I do more business than they do, and they talk to the officers and get them to watch me," she said. Mrs. Rave was fined $25 and costs for speeding at a rate of 25 miles an hour.

DECORAH "JUICE" NOW SUPPLYING M'GREGOR CITY

Current Carrying 13,200 Volts Is Supplying Towns: Rural School Uses Electric Current

M'GREGOR, Iowa.—(Special.)—Cnrrent from the Upper Iowa Power company at Decorah was turned on this week and the McGregor Electric Light and Power company is now bringing 13,200 volts of electricity from Postville over its lines to supply McGregor and North McGregor. Luana and Monona farmers along the transmission lines are receiving electricity from the same source.

An interesting feature is the use of the current at the newly completed rural consolidated school at Luana. Every manner of electrical device has been installed in the building and five motors are in operation. Water is pumped by electricity to supply drinking fountains and boys' and girls' lavatory and toilet in connection with every schoolroom. The domestic science department has electric stoves and many kinds of electrical utensils. The manual training department is fully equipped with electric power. Vacuum cleaners will clean the whole building and an electric operated air-washing system will render every bit of air germless before it enters the schoolrooms.

Road is Finished

The new county road from North McGregor to the West yards to take the place of the old one along the banks of Bloody Run, has been completed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company and opened to travel. It is conceded to be the best piece of dirt road in Clayton county and model of its kind. It has been built at big expense to the company. A survey was made along the hills about 100 feet above the old road and a grade cut from the hillsides. To make the grade easy a cut of several hundred yards about fifteen feet deep was made and at the west end a fill of about equal length and height. The road bed has been surfaced with cinders. The highway winds around the hills in a long curve commanding a beautiful view of the North McGregor valley and the Mississippi. Just east of it the new roundhouse and shops will be built. Along the sides of the road some twenty temporary houses have been built by the railroad company and the contracting firm as homes for the men at work on the improvements. The houses are lighted with electricity and supplied with spring water from the hills.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Julia Kieley died here Tuesday at the age of eighty-nine. She was born in Tipperary, Ireland and came to America when twenty years old. She has lived in McGregor since 1856. Forty-three years ago her husband was killed here when the bank of a pit in which he was digging caved in. Since his death she has lived with her daughter, Mrs. Phillip Eckert. Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church.

George Thies, a farmer living several miles west of McGregor, had his right ear nearly torn from his head and received other lesser injuries in a runaway accident Wednesday. Mr. Thies was driving near town when his team became frightened. He was thrown from the buggy but held onto the reins and was dragged for some distance in an attempt to control the team. He was taken to a neighboring house where six stitches were taken in his ear.

As a result of the aeroplanes exhibition given here Saturday by J. R. Hutch of the Davenport, Iowa, school of aviation, Clifton Oleson, son of Conductor and Mrs. Ben Oleson, has gone to Davenport to take a four months' course in aviation. In the exhibition here Clifton made the ascent with the aviator.

Raymond Sullivan has passed his state examinations at the bar at Des Moines and returned to McGregor. He will be in the law office of Attorney M. X. Geske this winter.

Among those who will benefit by the increase of soldier widows' pensions from $12 to $20 a month is Mrs. Emily Peck of North McGregor. She is over 90 years old. Her husband was a veteran of the civil war.

W. F. Daubenberger left yesterday for his ranch in western Nebraska to enjoy his annual two weeks' hunting vacation.

Downing Ind is here from Sturgis, D. D., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ind. It is his first visit home in a good many years.

Boat owners report an epidemic of boat thievery with the guilty parties not found. Four of the fishermen have recently had their fishing boats stolen.

One of the largest farm sales held in this vicinity was that of John Gerahty, Jr., on Pleasant Ridge Wednesday. Mr. Gerahty has rented his farm and will move to Montana.

A party of prominent business men of Cedar Rapids and their wives autoed to McGregor Sunday and spent the day visiting scenic places on the proposed national park site. W. F. Bickel acted as guide. In the party was Luther A. Brewer, owner of the Cedar Rapids Republican and Times.

Health Restored By Nature's Creation

Mr. Barrick Says It Has Given Me My Present Good Health.

A. E. BARRICK.

Ashland, O., March 1, 1916.

"My health is entirely restored. Your Nature's Creation has given me my present good health. My doctor, some time ago, examined my lungs and found my lung affected—I also had tuberculosis of the bone—in my leg below the knee. Six months later I was again examined, and my lungs were found in bad shape. I was very dejected, but did not think anything would help me. Nature's Creation was highly recommended by a friend. Against the advice of my doctor, and I was also skeptical, I decided to give it a trial.

"After I had used six bottles of Nature's Creation, I again had my lungs examined, and this time the doctor pronounced them sound and well, and made these remarks: 'Your lungs are as strong as anybody's and with ordinary care should never trouble you.' Have not taken any medicine since I quit taking Nature's Creation about a year ago. I weigh 190 pounds—I only weighed 150 before I took the medicine.

"Nature's Creation is the best investment any sick person could make. It pays bigger dividends in benefit, by restoring health, than any stock in the world. I would not take fifty times what the medicine cost me—for the benefit I received, and I feel confident that it will help others as it did me.

"A. E. BARRICK,

"135 West Main St., Ashland, Ohio."

You may have Tuberculosis, Asthma or Bronchial Trouble. You may be rundown—have Catarrh or Impure Blood. You would give a great deal to relieve the trouble—take Nature's Creation. Do not experiment—take a remedy that has proven how much it helps sufferers. Do not delay. By filling out the coupon below, a valuable booklet will be mailed FREE. Write Today.

ARGENTINE'S NEW RADICAL PRESIDENT IS INAUGURATED

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 13.—Dr. Hipolito Irigoyen, Argentine's first radical president, was inaugurated Thursday with the most simple ceremonies that ever marked such an event in the southern republic.

Dr. Irigoyen finally yielded to the pleadings of his friends and rode to the capitol in a taxicab. He had insisted upon riding in a street car.

A woman may know just what to say, but she invariably adds more to it.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washings the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

MRS. JANE SPURR BURIED AT SPARTA

Resident of Sparta for More Than Sixty Years Succumbs to Paralysis; Two Daughters Survive

KEELER LOSES SUIT

Standard Oil Company Winner in Suit Brought by Man for Death of His Wife; Asked $10,000

SPARTA, Wis.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Spurr, who died Tuesday afternoon were held Thursday afternoon at three o'clock from the Methodist church, Rev. C. L. Clifford officiating. The deceased had been ill for a long time and shortly before her death was stricken with paralysis. She was eighty-five years of age.

Mrs. Spurr was born in Cazenovia, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1831, coming to Wisconsin with her people in 1845. Three years later she was married to Charles Spurr and they have been residents of Sparta or vicinity since that time.

Two daughters survive her. Mrs. Mary J. Marsh of Barron county, who arrived in the city Thursday and Miss Cassie, who made her home with her mother.

Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery, by the side of her late husband.

Suit is Lost

George Keeler lost his suit against the Standard Oil company and Ben Fox. The jury had the case about twelve hours, returning a verdict at ten o'clock Thursday night in favor of the defendants.

Mr. Keeler sued for $10,000 to compensate him for the loss of all his possessions by fire, and injuries to himself and the death of his wife, caused by an explosion when Mrs. Keeler started a fire in the cook stove.

The decision was that the kerosene was not mixed with gasoline, but that proper care was not exercised by those using it.

POACHERS' FINES GIVE BIG SUM TO STATE'S SCHOOLS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 5.—The total receipts to the state school fund from fines and costs assessed on violators of the fish and game laws total $30,508.65, according to the figures of the conservation commission.

Of this amount Eau Claire county offenders contributed $1,390, Marinette county, $1,135, and Polk county, $1,125. In Monroe and Green counties, no offending nimrods were apprehended. Dane county contributed $415 to the fund.

That the state is annually mulcted out of thousands of dollars by justices' of the peace who neglect to report the receipt of fines and costs to county treasurers is the opinion of Secretary Scheibel of the conservation commission.

"I know of many cases in which the justice of the peace hearing such cases have not made returns to the county treasurer," said Mr. Scheibel. "I am of the opinion that if the state put an expert accountant in charge of this work, that it would be found that the state is a big loser through negligence."

The "One Buck Law" has had the effect of keeping non-resident hunters out of Wisconsin, according to Mr. Scheibel. The number of applications for such licenses, which cost $25, has fallen way below normal since the passage of this law. The resident licenses are normal. Because of the cold springs druing the past two years, the grouse and prairie chicken hunting is poor this fall, according to reports from the northern counties.

The commission is now issuing contracts to the rough fish contractors of the state. Very few will be made this year, owing to the fact that a number of fishermen lost money last year. The total poundage of carp, buffalo, and suckers taken from Wisconsin waters in 1915 was 1,381,168, of which the state's share amounted to $11,120.07, or 20 per cent of the sale price.

The biggest fisherman in the state doing business with the state on rough fish exclusively, is W. E. Wiedner, Stoughton. Mr. Wiedner took 210,873 pounds of these fish from Lake Kegonsa in Dane county last year. He operates more than one mile of seine, employs 12 men, and draws his nets with gasoline engines. His profits last year in 80 days of fishing were in the neighborhood of $6,000.

YOU WANT PINK CHEEKS

Every woman wants pink cheeks. They mean not only beauty but health.

Then put the color in your cheeks, not on them. The glow of health is the red of healthy blood showing through translucent skin. It is impossible without rich, red blood.

When a girl's color fades and she looks debilitated, is short of breath, when her heart palpitates after every slight exertion and she has pains in various parts of the body she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are the remedy best suited to restore the blood, bring brightness to the eyes and put color in the cheeks and lips.

The only other treatment needed costs nothing. It is this. Give the patient plenty of sunlight, moderate exercise every day, not enough to cause fatigue, and use care in the diet because the food craved is often not the best for the condition.

Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" give just the information that every mother of a growing girl needs. They are free. Write for them today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can send fifty cents for a full-size package.

LEE AXWORTHY SETS A RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 13.—Lee Axworthy, champion trotting stallion of the world, driven to a wagon by one of his owners, Harry K. Deavereaux of Cleveland, lowered the wagon record of 2:05 1-4 for trotting stallions to 2:03 3-4 on the final day of the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association here on Thursday.

Volga, champion 3 year old mare, started to beat her mark of 2:04 1-2, but tired in the stretch after trotting the third quarter in 30 1-4 and completed the mile in 2:05 1-4.

The Laziest Shepherd.

A century and more ago a pamphlet entitled "The Shepherds of Salisbury Plain" set forth their notorious laziness and said a gentleman offered a prize of a guinea to the laziest of a slumberous group. Some started up to claim the prize, which was won by the shepherd who merely murmured an invitation to shove it into his pocket.—London Globe.

HIGH GASOLINE INCREASES RATES FOR GAS PLANTS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13. — The hearing here before the railroad commission in the case of the application of the village of Markesan for authority to increase the rates of its public-owned gas plant, brought out that the high price of gasoline may cause a decided increase in the rates of all utilities that use this liquid in any considerable quantity.

E. W. Laper, secretary of the village board, testified that when the price went up about eight months ago, the rate for gas at Markesan was increased from $1.20 per thousand feet to $1.50 for thousand feet. The utility law forbids any increase in rates without authority from the commission, but Laper excused the action on the ground that it was thought that the commission would immediately grant the increase asked for.

Instead, however, the commission, a few weeks ago, dismissed the application, because it could get no information from the village officials. A re-hearing was asked for and granted. Mr. Laper declared that, at the rate of $1.20, the plant could not exist, and said that at present they were paying 28 cents for gasoline delivered at Markesan.

Riley Memorial Held

A program to commemorate the birth of James Whitcomb Riley, famous Hoosier poet, was held Thursday morning at the normal. The program consisted of various numbers by members of the regular normal faculty and students in the model school. O. O. White of the English department delighted the student body with an especially well prepared and delivered talk on the life of Riley. D. O. Coate, head of the English department, recited several of Riley's popular selections which were enthusiastically received.

Model School Apparatus

Model school children at the normal school are enjoying the use of several new pieces of playground which have been recently installed to the east of the school building. The facilities include swings, bars, slides etc., which all normal school model school children are now enjoying.

P. T. A. Elects

More than 400 teachers, parents and pupils attended the first meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' association of the high school Wednesday night. The meeting was called to order by President R. H. Worth. The following officers were elected, President, L. H. White; Vice President, C. F. Figge; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Anna M. Mashek. Principal Tift addressed the meeting and asked for greater co-operation between teachers and parents for promoting a higher standard of scholarship. After the meeting punch and wafers were served in the gymnasium by members of Miss Ruddock's Domestic Science classes.

"Dreary Stuff," Said Gissing.

G. B. Burgin in the Bookman contributes a personal recollection of George Gissing, whom he met many years ago at a garden party in St. John's Wood. "He was curiously, and I should think unconsciously, picturesque," writes Mr. Burgin, "his loose, easy clothes and slouch hat seeming a part of his own personality more than a studied pose, and looking rather at variance with the smart 'get up' of the London crowd which filled the little garden." During conversation Gissing alluded to the fact that many authors wrote with ease and facility, "but," he added, "I grind it out with infinite pain and labor." When Mr. Burgin hinted that most of his material was saddening, "Yes," he said thoughtfully, "it's dreary stuff—dreary stuff!"

Complicated, but Easy.

"How do you get your husband to do what he doesn't want to do when you want him to do it?" "That's easy. I make a big fuss over something he has already done which I didn't want him to do, or I remind him of something which I have done which he wanted me to do and I didn't want to do, and soon he is doing what I want him to do just as though he had wanted to do it all along."—Detroit Free Press.

KENNY AND HOLLIS CONVULSE HOUSE IN COLLEGE SKIT

After a lapse of two seasons Kenny and Hollis are again at their old game of mirth-making in La Crosse. After making the east laugh with them they slipped into town between the "big time" in Chicago and the Twin Cities, and the two boys are just about having things their own little way on an enticing, A No. 1 vaudeville bill at the La Crosse theater. Their act, called "Freshie's initiation," was witnessed by a large audience which braved the downpour of Thursday evening and forgot the discomfort when Kenny and Hollis let go. Kenny, of course, is the college boy. His costume is a scream in itself, but when he cuts loose in earnest with a string of new ones in the joke line there isn't a straight face in the house and a dropping brick would sound like a pin. Every time he opens his mouth there is new surprise and he completes the "nut" comedy with an imitation of Harry Lauder and an Irish dance. A special curtain inscribed with college legends of their own inventing only adds to the applause.

While the funny pair take first honors, the program includes several surprises. Davis and Kitty spring a distinct surprise in a number opening with comedy juggling and ending with cornet and trombone music. Davis knows what a vaudeville wants and he dishes it out. Kitty is as cute as her name and her costumes do anything but detract from her charms.

If the nimble art of juggling could always be worked with the degree of novelty and briskness exhibited by several contributors to the bill, that variety pastime would become famous.

Hal Hart opens with a unique slack-wire act. He juggles Indian clubs, sits on a chair on the wire, leapes to it from the ground, and has a little line of talk on the side.

The Married Men are well received in a skit entitled "The Matrimonial Mix-up." They flavor a little burlesque with some excellent singing—particularly one member of the company, who renders an Irish song—and even a pretty dance.

Pretty costumes and special apparatus upon which they perform several tricks to the varieties feature the performance of The Five Florimonds. Their specialty also is ladder balancing. The act is begun with a novel effect.

AVIATORS DISAPPOINTED THROUGH FAILURE TO BAG PRIZES JOINTLY

(Since Wood mailed the following story on friendship of Lieutenants Deullin and de la Tour, Deullin has shot down his sixth and seventh plane. Lieutenant de la Tour remains at five.)

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(By Mail.)—Lieutenant Deullin and Lieutenant Hubert de la Tour, the Damon and Pythias of the French aviation service, have just suffered the bitter disappointment of failing to bring down together as they had solemnly sworn they would do—their fifth German aviator.

Less than twelve hours separated the individual exploits of the two friends, Deullin bringing down his fifth German on the evening of Aug. 24 and de la Tour his fifth on the following morning, yet the interval of twelve hours broke the solemn compact which they had been able to maintain from their joint entrance into the French aviation service.

To lessen a little their regret the French government officially announced the two exploits in the same communique but the aviators are firmly convinced that destiny has now intervened in the friendship.

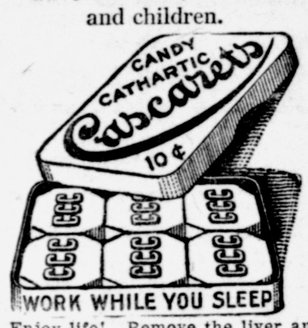

Roumania's Great Salt Mines.

Roumania is famous for its salt mines, and could supply all Europe with this commodity for hundreds of years. In some mines the beds are from 600 to 750 feet thick, and at Sarat there is a salt mountain whose sides are quarried with electric machines which cut out blocks each a cubic yard in size, while the fragments are scooped up in steam shovels.

Zinc by New Process.

YOU'RE BILIOUS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT
Don't stay headachy, sick or have bad breath and sour stomach.
Wake up feeling fine! Best laxative for men, women and children.

Enjoy life! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and calomel. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.

German Submarine Blamed For Sinking Of Five Ships Off Nantucket

These two views of the German submarine U-53 were taken during the three hours the vessel spent in Newport harbor, Saturday afternoon, when her appearance surprised naval officers and civilians alike. The names of Captain Hans Rose and his ship will go down in history. A little more than twelve hours after the vessel left Newport she is believed to have held up one American steamer, the Kansan, and sunk five British ships, the West point, racing to New York; the Strathdene, bound for Bordeaux; the Stephano, St. Johns to New York, and the Bloomers Dyk, Dutch, New York to Rotterdam; and the Norwegian boat, Christian Knudson. The British Kingston, at first reported sunk, is now believed safe.

GRIDIRON ECLIPSES DIAMOND AS RED SOX BEAT DODGERS

Mowrey's Little Fly Into Scott's Hands Wrote Finis to Baseball Season

BY H. C. HAMILTON

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—As the setting sun slipped low and 42,666 fans rose to hail Boston's Red Sox the world's champions of 1916, a shadow appeared over Braves' field late Thursday. A puny fly from Mike Mowrey's bat which fell into Everett Scott's waiting hands, wrote finis on the stirring baseball year.

But the shadow on Friday stood out in bold relief across the Charles river. It was an oval shaped affair. Back of it rose two slender shafts, with a cros-bar between. Running criss-cross were thin lines, say about five yards apart. There was a flash of color here, the thud of colliding bodies there, the plunking of flesh and leather against inflated pigskin. And bursting into full bloom a new football rolled forward and encompassed the scene.

With fresh glories, a Red Sox will now hustle on their various ways. To the Dodgers is willed the pastime of figuring many things that might have been. The national pastime is consigned to moth balls and the stove league gossip for the winter, but the juggernaut of young America in moleskins comes rolling forth to stir the blood.

The world's series was to be declared officially off sometime during the day in Boston and Brooklyn by the national commission by passing out checks to Dodgers and Red Sox.

The national commission will split $162,927.45, sixty and forty, between players of the two clubs, the largest amount that ever has gone to the athletes, and the final chapter will be closed.

FOOTBALL SEASON OF NORMAL TO BE OPENED SATURDAY

Husky Dubuquers, Possibly with Butler at Quarter, Will Try to Repeat Victory of 1915

On Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the normal football team will officially open its 1916 season with one of the biggest contests of the year. The Dubuque college and seminary huskies, who proved their prowess by romping away victoriously last fall with a win over the normalites will furnish the amusement.

With Dr. Sputh out of the city on business, Coach Keeler has now charge of the entire squad pounding them into shape for the opener. Considerable changes have been made in the lineup during the past week. An entirely different squad of men from that which met Winona in a practice game last week is expected to be hooked into the harness to compete with the downriver men.

It is not definitely known here whether the famous Butler, colored, century man and football star, is still a member of Dubuque German college. Medals and cups possessed by Butler, which were viewed by the La Crosse men on their trip last season, are valued at over a thousand dollars. Should Butler run the team at quarter he will undoubtedly prove the most serious obstacle in the way of the normal's path to victory.

To Entertain Visitors

The Dubuque aggregation, it is understood, will not arrive until Saturday morning. The La Crosse men are planning to show their competitors as much entertainment as they had the honor of being shown in the costly dormitories of the Dubuque men on their trip south. Both teams with many men students at the normal will dine at noon in the school lunch room. Following the game, both teams will again dine together at the school. A special "feed" is being arranged for the occasion. Thereupon the visitors will be taken to the cabaret and dance which will be the chief attraction at the school on Saturday evening.

The lineup of the normalites for the first game of the season is practically chosen although there are possibilities that before another week is up, some of the men now playing with the seconds will find a regular berth with the firsts. The size of the normal's backfield is rather peculiar with "Shorty" Grounds at one half, Grausnick on the other side, "Captain" Miller now playing at full instead of at his old position at one end of the line, and "Soup" Roellig calling the plays. Crider and Dean are also well drilled in running the first team's signals. In the line, Joe Baker will pass the ball with Winner and "Jake" Gensmann at the guarding positions. Gensmann has won a place with the regular aggregation, at least temporarily. Meinert and Immell will do the tackling and with Louie Kulcinski and Benjamin at the ends of the line, it is expected Butler or any other fast man will find it difficult to skirt the edges.

BARNES MAY MEET HAGEN

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Oct. 13.—There appeared strong prospect Friday that James M. Barnes, Philadelphia, and Walter Hagen, Rochester, would be in the finals Saturday for the championship of the Professional Golfers' Association of America. They were in the next to the last round Friday, Barnes playing William MacFarlane, Yonkers, and Hagen playing Jack Hutchinson, Pittsburgh.

TUFTS SCARES PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 13.—Tufts, by virtue of her victory over Harvard, comes to Princeton Saturday amid a flurry of gridiron speculation and anxiety such as usually precedes only a Harvard or Yale game.

AMERICANS PLAY FOR RUNS AND NOT FOR BEVY OF HITS

Younger Circuit Has Won Six of Seven Starts Against Their Older Rival

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The American league, after Boston's victory over Brooklyn in the world's series, now has captured the championship in six out of the last seven starts and with the latest scramble over, it certainly would appear that the brand of baseball they play in the American league is too much for the average National league leader.

The American leaguers play for the runs, while the National league's best effort seems to be a wild, disconcerted effort to see how many hits they can pile up.

The advantage of the sacrifice game in a contest where good pitching is being dished out at all times was more clearly demonstrated by the Red Sox perhaps than at any time in the history of baseball.

The Red Sox records show just exactly twice as many sacrifice hits as the Dodgers and the Boston representatives in the big games scored twenty-one runs to thirteen by Brooklyn.

The Red Sox are not noted for their hitting power, nor speed on the base lines, but for a superlative pitching staff and inner defense.

Fielding by the Americans was expected to be much stronger than that of their National league rivals. It was. The Red Sox turned in a total of thirteen more assists than the Dodger record shows and they were charged with only six errors, as against fourteen marked against the National league champions.

A big new discovery in cigarette blending

The big thing about Chesterfields is their unique blend. The Chesterfield blend is an entirely new combination of tobaccos. This blend is the most important new development in cigarette making in 20 years.

As a result, Chesterfields produce a totally new kind of cigarette enjoyment—they satisfy! Just like a "bite" before bedtime satisfies when you're hungry.

But with all that, Chesterfields are MILD, too!

This new enjoyment (satisfy, yet mild) comes ONLY in Chesterfields because no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend.

MYERS THE SHINING LIGHT OF SERIES

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—Unlike most world's series, the 1916 series developed no popular hero. There was no youngster to come to the front with the rush that characterized the sudden appearance of Joe Bush and Bedient. If any one rising participant is to be given a crown, the chances are the vote would favor Hy Myers, the Brooklyn center fielder, though the fact that he spent the five days with a losing club rather dims his brilliance.

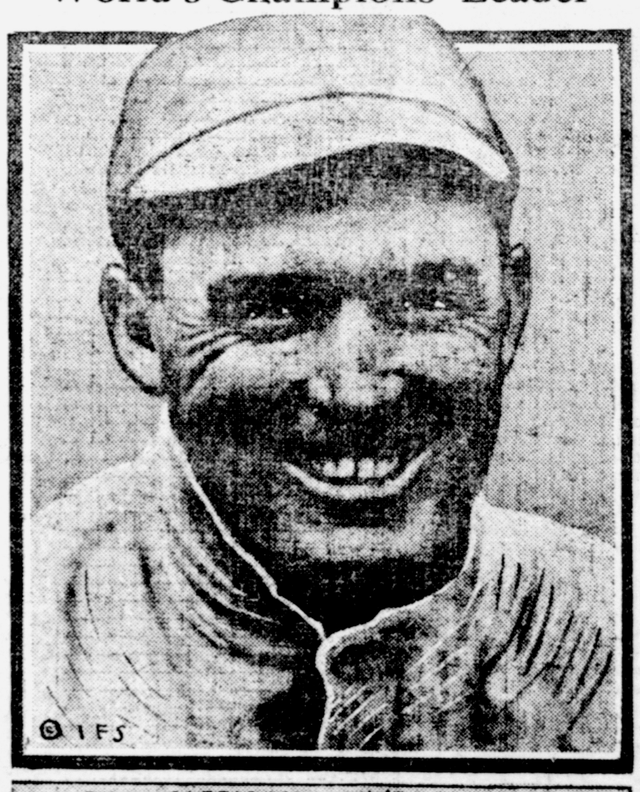

Myers has been used as a substitute outfielder most of the season, but when Jimmy Johnston began to show signs of cracking, young Myers was taken off the bench by Wilbert Robinson and sent into the breach. He delivered. Consequently he was the regular center field guardian for the championship series. He did not kill the ball, but he did hit it and he hit it hard. His home run was the only Brooklyn score in the second game. His work was the one redeeming feature of all the Flatbush disasters in fielding. Larry Gardner stands over Myers, of course, as the long distance clouting hero, with two home runs to his credit.

Tomah Game Expected To Be Hard One For Coach Bell's Charges

The football game between La Crosse high and Tomah high at Tomah next Saturday promises to be one of the hardest games of the season for the local team. Tomah has a strong team this year which is shown by its defeat of Portage by a 14 to 0 score at Portage last Saturday.

E. A. Hassett of the high school faculty, who refereed the game at Portage says the Tomah team is exceptionally strong and heavy this year. The line, he says, is like a stone wall. The fullback, who weighs 185 pounds, is a wonder, he says.

UNITED PRESS NOT IDENTIFIED WITH BIOGRAPHERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Numerous inquiries have been made of the United Press associations as to whether it has any connection with a concern located on South Clark street, Chicago, which, in its circulars, offers a book of biographies with a sketch of the purchaser for $10, and which repeatedly uses the line "United Press Service."

The officials of the United Press state they know nothing about the Clark street concern and that the United Press is not responsible for any representations or acts of those sending out these circulars.

BELOIT HOPPERS TO FEED NATION

BELOIT, Wis., Oct. 13.—A frog farm has been started near here by a Chicago commission firm for the purpose of raising a big enough supply of the four legged hoppers to supply the country.

John J. Burns, who with his brother, controls the commission company, has leased thirty acres. His company is the largest dealing in frogs in the country. A tank, 16 feet by 42 feet, and 6 feet deep, with a capacity for 480,000 frogs, has been made and a building in which the farm manager will live has been almost completed. Frogs will be stored in the tank awaiting market, and experiments will be made in breeding. Already Burns has received several orders, one of them for 500 dozen pairs of the delicious frog's legs.

When Owen Wister, author of the Virginian, told a long yarn in the story about a frog farm to foil a four-flushing rival, perhaps the novelist never anticipated that just such a farm a decade after the publishing of the book would be started in Wisconsin.

MONROE COUNTY IS TRANSFERRED TO CHICAGO DISTRICT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. — The federal reserve board on Friday voted to transfer from the Minneapolis to the Chicago federal reserve district, Monroe, Jackson, Clark, Marathon, Langlade, Oconto and Marinette counties, Wisconsin, and all other Wisconsin counties east and south of them now in the Minneapolis districts.

The change which will be effective January 1, 1917, was made on the request of Wisconsin bankers. The board took no action on a petition of northern Michigan bankers to be changed from the Minneapolis to the same district.

GERMANS PROTECT BIG GUNS BEHIND THEIR SOMME LINE

By HENRY WOO
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE SOMME FRONT, Oct. 13.—The Germans have withdrawn their heavy guns from one and a half to five miles behind their Somme front, Anglo-French aviators have discovered on recent flights.

The withdrawal was ordered to save the pieces from capture. In the recent dashes of allied infantry into the German lins many heavy guns have been taken before the Germans had an opportunity to withdraw them.

The Germans now have 2,100 guns opposing the French and British on the thirty-mile Somme front, compared with the 2,500 guns they used in the attack on Verdun. Of this number 600 are are south of the Somme, facing the French, and 650 oppose the French advance north of the Somme. The British are opposed by 850 German pieces.

Since the allied offensive began more than 500 German guns have eben captured.

BRITISH DESTROYER IN PATROL OFF COAST, REPORTS RUSSIAN BOAT

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—The pilot of the Russian steamship Hesperus, which docked here Friday, reported that a fast British destroyer was running at top speed across the mouth of Massachusetts bay all Thursday, making a course from Cape May to Cape Ann just outside the three-mile limit.

Other boats of a similar type were reported by pilots who brought their ships to Boston.

The British ambassador at Washington has sent word to the British consul general here that steamers ready for sea might proceed and the steamship Lord Cromer probably would leave for Liverpool during the day, the Cunard steamship line reported.

BRITISH ADVANCE ON BIG FRONT IS CLAIM OF HAIG

LONDON, Oct. 13.—British troops advanced on the front extending from Guedecourt to Les Bouefs (about one and one-half miles) in severe fighting north of the Somme Thursday night, General Haig reported Friday afternoon. Gains were also made northwest of Guedecourt and 150 prisoners were taken.

A German attack north of Stuff redoubt was driven off.

Fourteen British raiding parties entered enemy trenches in the regions of Ypres and Armentieres during the night, returning with prisoners and inflicting casualties.

Bombard Mauser Works

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Franco-British air squadrons bombarded the Mauser works at Obendorf Thursday night, dropping nearly five tons of projectiles, it was officially announced Friday.

On both sides of the Somme artillery was rather violent during the night, especially in the sectors of Morval, Bouchavenes, Ablaincourt and Chaulnes.

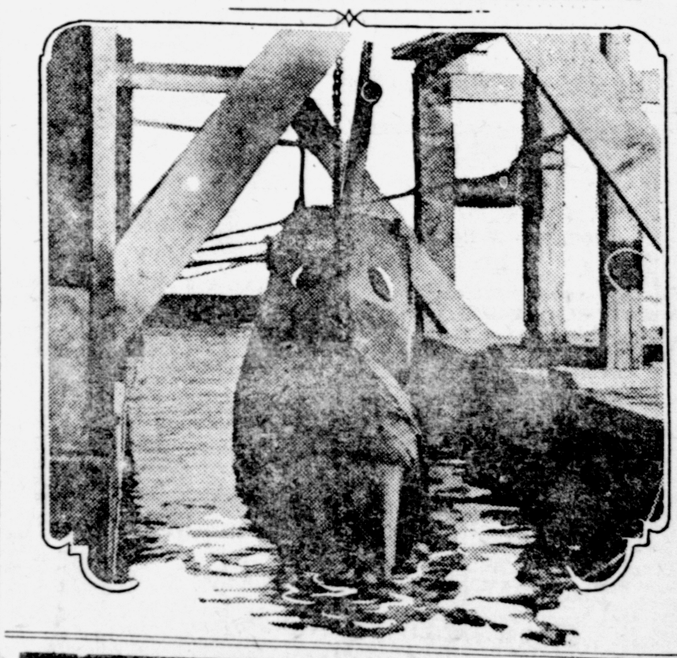

MILK STRIKE IN OHIO

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 13.—This city and others supplied with milk bought by Pittsburg distributors from the northern Ohio Milk Producers' association will face a milk famine on Monday next.

The producers announce Friday that they would "strike" for higher prices for their product.

Most men put in a lot of time trying to do things that would be detrimental to their own interests.

DO YOU WANT EGGS?

Then keep your fowls free from lice. We will admit that it is a tedious job to dust them with louse powder and have therefore prepared a Louse Cream which takes just a second for every bird. Two applications a year will keep them free from those torturing pests for twelve months.

It is put up in handy tubes at 25 cents per tube. We have taken great pains in preparing this preparation especially in using a colorless base, so that it will not discolor the plumage on light colored birds. We have sold hundreds of tubes on this particular point alone.

We have poultry fanciers far and near who are using it with the best of results.

Let us deliver you a tube or send it by mail.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requsite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

STREET CAR CREWS DRIVEN FROM CARS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. — Crews were driven off eleven surface cars over night by riotous crowds of strike sympathizers on the upper east side, stones were thrown and shots fired and the trouble was quelled only with the arrival of a large number of reserves.

FACTORIES THREATENED WITH CLOSING BECAUSE OF SHORTAGE OF COAL

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—Lack of cars to transfer coal from the boat docks to their plants is threatening manufacturers here with a tie-up of their plants. Unless some other means is adopted shortly to get the coal to the plants, manufacturers say they will be compelled to close up, throwing thousands of employes out of work and resulting in losses to themselves of thousands of dollars.

EPISCOPALEANS ARE SPLIT ON MATTER OF DIVORCEES MARRYING

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 13.—The hot debate of Thursday was continued Friday morning when the house of deputies and the house of bishops, the ruling bodies of the Protestant Episcopal church, in joint session resumed arguments on the proposed new church law which would prohibit the marriage of divorced persons in the church. The session was about evenly divided on the question.

Supremacy of Thought.

Thoughts are important factors in the molding of a life. They may not be seen but they bespeak of latent power, the trend of the mind, the hopes and aspirations of the heart. We marvel at some of the inventions and achievements of the age. But the thoughts of the inventor rushed on ahead of the invention. The mind of the man who achieves sees the possibility, and works it out, long before the world is aware of it. This is true in all the varied phases of life. The thought is the father of the act, the word of the deed. Tell me the thoughts uppermost in a man's mind and I will tell you what he will do and become tomorrow. If his thoughts are miserly he will become niggardly, if benevolent then charitable, if lewd then base, if pure then a man in whom there is no guile. If you master the inner world of thought victory will be yours in the outer world of achievement.—Frank Willard Court.

No Splashing From Faucet.

To prevent water from splashing in the sink, to strain the water and to prevent dishes from being broken by knocking against the faucet are the objects of a little device just put upon the market. It is a rubber cap, containing four sieves, which fits over the mouth of the faucet or screws on to a threaded faucet. Its makers claim for it that the water runs without any splashing whatever and that the sieves catch all dirt. The antisplasher can be taken off and washed with a brush.

SHOPPING FROCK IN SERGE.

Stylish to the last degree, yet without making one feel over-dressed, this frock of dark blue serge is adorable. The lower edge is trimmed with a very wide band of braid and this decoration is used also for the narrow belt. There is a deep square yoke on the waist cut with open neck which is finished with a turn-down collar. The chemisette of tan crepe Georgette has buttons of bright green and red silk to supply the bright note to the costume. Cuffs match the chemisette. In medium size the model requires 5 yards 54-inch material, 5 yards of braid and ¾ yard crepe Georgette.

SOCIETY

DINNER

Mrs. Fred Leithold, 214 North Ninth street, was hostess at a pleasant autumn dinner last evening, her guests numbering ten married couples. The decorations, of vari-colored autumn leaves and the bright red berries of the bittersweet, gave a pleasant woodsy appearance to the rooms.

W. B. U. NOTES

The first "social hour" of the year was held at the W. B. U. Thursday afternoon from four to five o'clock, and the occasion was much enjoyed by the students. It is planned to make the social hour a regular event to be held on Thursday afternoon of each week.

The bracing autumn weather proved the lure which took a party of students from the W. B. U. to Pettibone park on Wednesday afternoon for a wiener roast.

POSTPONE RAMBLE

Due to the inclemency of the weather the hike of the Ramblers' club of the Y. W. C. A., planned for Thursday afternoon, was postponed, and will probably be held some afternoon next week.

YEOMEN EVENTS

The weekly social of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen at their hall Tuesday evening was largely attended. In the afternoon the Rowena Circle held its first fall meeting. Progressive cinch was played and prizes were awarded to Mesdames Vondrashek, Delphenich, Schaefer J. Schneeberger, Krueger and Horn. The Yeomen will hold their regular meeting next Tuesday evening.

KREATORY'S ORKESTRA COMING

The Epworth League of the West Avenue Methodist church announces that they have secured "Kreatory" and his famous "Komic Kazoo Orkestra" for a concert to be given at the church at eight o'clock this evening. Appearing with the "orkestra" will be the soloist extraordinary, Madame Zannie Floomfield Beisler. Admission to the concert is free, but a silver offering will be taken to help defray the expense of bringing the aggregation to the city.

HOSPITAL NOTE

Mrs. August Woldt, 1511 Winnebago street, was operated upon for appendicitis at the La Crosse hospital Thursday, and is recovering nicely from the effects of the operation.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. R. A. Kempter entertained at a children's party at her home, 1413 Kane street, in observance of the seventh birthday of her daughter Margaret. Games and other amusements provided entertainment for the children during the afternoon and later refreshments were served at a table prettily decorated with flowers and centered with a large birthday cake. Those present were Joan Nally, Viola Hosly, Irene Pendergast, Lucy Spence, Dorothy Graham, Bernice Spear, Elsie Kesgard, Sarah Atkinson, Alta Forss, Florence Limpert and Joan Sydlizt of Minneapolis.

ENTERTAIN OFFICERS OF EASTERN STAR LODGE

A pleasant social event of Thursday was that at which Mrs. George R. Reay and Mrs. Jake Olson entertained their fellow officers of La Crosse chapter No. 22, Order of Eastern Star, at the home of Mrs. Reay, 1337 Vine street. There were fifteen in the party, including the hostesses. The coming event of Hallowe'en cast its shadow before it on this occasion and the decorations were in close harmony with the spirit of Hallowe'en, pumpkins, black cats, witches and all the signs of the season being much in evidence. Fortunes were told, and in a guessing contest first honors were taken by Mrs. G. F. Groff, while second prize went to Miss Florence Fisher. Those present were the Mesdames L. H. White, J. R. Murrel, Fred Hiltz, William Yeo, A. F. Kniebusch, C. A. Tomeraasen, G. F. Groff, Sadie Grover and C. M. Clark and the Misses Florence Oadams, Florence Fisher, Jeanette Torrance and Gertrude Scott.

STEAMER CURLEW IS BACK AT DOCK

After several weeks' work seining stranded fish from the sloughs on the Mississippi below La Crosse, the government fisheries crew returned to La Crosse Friday on the steamer Curlew, which is docked at her berth at the Black river bridge.

Insanity.

The statistics of insanity show that the minds of men and women are often made aberrant through the steady drive of environment, in which the simple life and the spurring city life are equally at fault. The figures show the per capita of insanity differs little in city and country. Rural solitude and the abnormal life of the city are alike responsible for mental diseases. It is as bad for man to be too much alone as it is for him to be surrounded by a perfervid life. The history of the race, the inquiries of investigators and the judgment of specialists in the disease of mind and body tell us that the well tempered life, void of excesses, is the plane upon which men and women best endure in mental and bodily health; a temperance of action in an environment in which the individual is neither submerged by human society nor detached from it.

Man-Eating Sharks.

Man-eating sharks are more numerous in the tropical, or south-tropical seas, than in those of the North, but they roam all the seas, and are liable to be found almost anywhere. Sharks are sometimes found off the coast of Maine.

THE HASKIN LETTER

Our Trade With Russia

America Begins to Appreciate Possibilities of Developing Trade of Muscovites.

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—Since the European War, much has been said and a great deal accomplished in promoting our trade relations with South America. The opportunities for selling ready-made clothes and farm implements in China have also been widely discussed and emphasized. Within the past year, an even larger opportunity has appeared on the American commercial horizon—namely, our trade with Russia.

This question is now occupying the close attention of progressive business men all over the country. Representatives of several large American firms are now in Russia investigating trade conditions; one New York concern has established its own steamship line for the purpose of carrying goods back and forth between the two countries, and an organization of Chicago manufacturers recently set out for Russia with a shipload of samples. Societies are being organized both in this country and in Russia for the purpose of promoting trade relations between the two countries, among which the American-Russian chamber of commerce in New York and the Russian-American chamber of commerce in Moscow are the most important. American banking interests are taking up the question of establishing branches throughout Russia; one big New York bank has already added a Russian department to its establishment with a well-known Russian at its head, and the young bank clerks and enterprising American salesmen are spending three nights a week in commercial night schools learning to speak Russian.

So the American business man is at last beginning to appreciate Russia's trade possibilities. Here is a country with a population one hundred times as great as that of South America, with natural resources great and undeveloped, and with a large market for manufactured goods. Before the war this market was supplied almost entirely by Germany, which not only exported products to Russia but acted as a middleman for other exporters. For example, while about eighty million dollars worth of American goods were formerly sold in Russia every year, a big percentage of it was actually imported through Germany. The war has changed this, and it is doubtful if Germany will ever again hold so complete a trade monopoly. The proclamation of peace is not likely to obliterate Russia's bitterness nor to destroy her present antipathy for things made in Germany.

In the meantime, at any rate, the field is open to competitors. Americans are making good use of the time to secure as many contracts as possible, but England and Japan are not neglecting their opportunities. A Russian-English chamber of commerce has recently been established for promoting Anglo-Russian relations and as for the Japanese, their salesmen are traveling all over the country.

Capturing the Russian market is going to be every bit as difficult as winning out in South America, with the additional handicap of closed shipping routes and disturbed shipping facilities. The Mediterranean, of course, is hopelessly blocked, and only an occasional vessel is allowed to pass through the Baltic, so that the only open ports of any consequence are Archangel and Vladivostok, which are closed by icebergs a part of every year. Here shipping is greatly congested, and railroad transportation to interior points uncertain, because the government is using the railroads for military purposes.

Owing to the high prices of all commodities occasioned by the war and the low exchange value of the Russian ruble at present, Russia is trying to get along with as few purchases as possible, but the past year has seen a rapid increase in American imports. During the first three months of 1916, $28,000,000 worth of American goods was imported into European Russia, as against $902,000 for the same months in 1915. Through the agencies of the Russian-American societies an enormous interest is being aroused in American manufacturers. In Vladivostok, for example, which is a city with a population of some hundred thousand persons, American representatives have found a demand for gloves of leather cloth, hosiery for men and women, ready made clothing of the lighter weight variety—for the Russians wear heavy outer garments of fur—overalls and clothes of cheaper variety for laborers and fishermen, and American shoes.

What is needed, however, is more American salesmen. The Russians will not buy articles by catalog—they must her salesmen and see samples. In the past, Russian fashions have been copied from American fashion plates, but the cloth was furnished by English or German concerns. Now Americans could easily supply the material or even ready made clothes if they made the effort. "Get your exporters to send us samples;" is the demand of each shopkeeper, "the Germans and English sent us all the samples we needed."

Both in Russia and Siberia there is a big demand for farm implements and all sorts of American machinery, and it is believed that when the war is over, there will be an even greater market. If the war should last only until the beginning of 1917, Russia's national debt will be somewhere in the neighborhood of thirty-two billion rubles. Besides this, she will have a long pension list of crippled soldiers and soldier's widows. The situation can not be met by taxation alone, and only one expedient will be left—the development of her natural resources. But for this foreign capital will be needed. Most of the other European nations will have all they can do to look after their own loans, and the United States will be the one country best fitted to undertake the investment. Already many joint stock companies of Russian and American firms have been formed, and American factories are shooting up all over Russia. They are worked by American employes and run by American machinery.

American agricultural experts have also been employed by the Russian zemstvos to operate agricultural experiment stations throughout Siberia. They have immediately imported a quantity of American farm implements, which have thus become popular among Russian farmers. One United States agricultural expert has been engaged by the Russian government for the past couple of years for the purpose of introducing cornplanted at several of the experiment stations and is proving generally successful.

It is to be regretted that American manufacturers enjoy the same reputation for careless packing in Russia that they do in South America. In a shipment of farm plows and tractors that arrived in Vladivostok recently many pieces were ruined. The boxes had been packed as if they were to be transported from New York to Chicago instead of on a long ocean voyage in which they are always subjected to rough handling and dampness.

An essential requirement of the salesman in Russia, for which the American is not remarkably famous, is tact. The American is too apt to become impatient or discouraged at the interference of the Secret Service of Russia and the amount of red tape required in transacting business. For the reason it has been suggested by the Russian-American societies that American firms take particular care to choose men that are both energetic and diplomatic rather than those who have a smattering of French and Russian. In the past also many concerns have ruined their chances by sending over salesmen without proper powers of attorney executed before an American notary and also before a Russian consular officer in the United States when such things are regarded as important in Russia. The Russian merchant is much impressed by a display of documents, just as the government is always impressed by a title. Where concessions or contracts must be obtained or someone put in charge of construction work, the agent should always be an officer of the firm or company.

Our trade with Russia is not confined to exporting alone. We also import a number of her raw products—mostly hides and skins, raw drugs caviar and bristles. At the beginning of the war, Russia declared an embargo on certain of these articles, thereby working a hardship on American merchants who were awaiting large consignments. Negotiations were immediately taken up by the state department and by various commercial agencies in this country, and Russia obligingly lifted the embargo, permitting the shipments to come forward upon the condition that the American merchants would promise not to re-export them to any other country during the three years to come or until the end of the war.

This was the beginning of cordial relations between the two countries. Since then every month has shown a big increase in the exchange of exports, and American influence is gaining a secure hold in the Russian markets. It is with slight apprehension, however, that American business men await the outcome of the war. Will Constantinople be the great future port of entry in Russia? Or will Germany be allowed to regain her monopoly on Russian imports and exports? The American business men think not.

BACKACHE

(By Dr. V. M. Pierce)

In spite of the best care one takes of oneself, any part of the human machine is liable to become out of order. The most important organs are the stomach, heart and kidneys.

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. Their signals of distress are easily recognized and include such symptoms as backache, depressions, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy, gout.

The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain a small amount of Anuric, which is dispensed by most every druggist. Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals. It is much more potent than lithia and you will find that Anuric dissolves uric acid as water does sugar.

A WALKING SHADOW

Marshfield, Wis.—"About fifteen years ago I developed quite a severe case of woman's weakness. I was very miserable, could not eat, lost in weight and strength until I was almost a walking shadow. I took medicine prescribed by the doctor but got no relief. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three bottles cured me. I was feeling splendid, could eat and sleep well and gained in strength and weight. I also gave it to my daughter. She was weak and had fainting spells and the medicine cured her. We also used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; there is nothing to equal them." MRS. R. D. JENKINS, 105 S. Vine Street, Marshfield, Wis.

Vacation for Mother Without Going Away

The housewife who knows how can enjoy a real vacation right at home. She can get away from the hot kitchen and the muss and exertion of baking and yet serve tasty meals that will delight the whole family.

She can do this by selecting foods that are quickly and easily prepared. Holland Rusk the dainty Dutch delicacy, is such a food. It saves the work and heat of home baking and can be served in a great variety of tempting ways. For instance what could be more appetizing as a summer dessert than this:

Raspberry Rusk

Take a box of fresh raspberries or reheat a jar of canned raspberries or any canned berry. If there is not enough juice add a little more water and sugar to the jar of berries. When hot use in the following manner. Butter a Holland Rusk, put some fruit on this and plenty of juice so the Rusk absorbs the liquid. On top place another Rusk, the bottom of which has been buttered. On top, which is not buttered, put berries and juice again allowing plenty of juice. Continue until you have three Rusks on top of each other, all absorbed with juice and a layer of fruit between them. Place a saucer on this and weight it down. Set in a cold place. Just before serving cut in slices. Serve with whipped cream.

This is only one of many good things you can make quickly and easily with Holland Rusk. Most grocers sell Holland Rusk, also Windmill Cookies, another Dutch dainty.

TEUTONS REPELLED PETROGRAD CLAIM

PETROGRAD, Oct. 13.—The Germans temporarily captured a section of Russian trench southwest of Bubnor, after heavy artillerying, but were repelled by a Russian counter-attack suffering heavily, it was officially announced Friday. Southwest of Svestelniki outpost actions occurred. The situation in Dobrudja is unchanged.

PRESIDENT PLEASED WITH HOOSIER RECEPTION

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S TRAIN, ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 13.—Feeling pleased over the reception given him in Indiana Thursday, President Wilson on Friday was swinging along in his private train, enroute back to Long Branch, N. J. The democratic leaders still feel Indiana is an uncertain quantity but that in the two addresses the president made yesterday he carried home two points:

1—That the president is contemptuous of such issues as sectionalism and other contentions raised by his republican opponent and is determined to carry on his campaign to make his adversaries, as he says, "put up or shut up" on what he regards the real issues.

2—For the first time that he has explained exhaustively to the farmers of the country what the democratic congress has done for them by passing the rural credits bill, federal

STEEL LEADS IN MARKET WHICH MISSES MILLION

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—United States Steel led the stock market upward Friday advancing nearly a point to 111⅛ during the first few minutes.

Mercantile Marine preferred made a 2⅝ point gain to 106⅜ and the common was up nearly two at 37¾. Gains of more than a point were made by United Fruit, Willys-Overland, Pressed Steel Car and Norfolk & Western.

Profit-taking caused some irregularity in the late forenoon. Activity in rails followed about noon, Norfolk & Western going to a new high at 146¾, up four points. Reading sold at 108. Sales for the morning were 493,00 shares.

Sales of 706,000 shares at two o'clock indicated that the long string of million share days might be broken. The market continued to move irregularly. United States Steel dropped back to 109¼ and Marine preferred sold as low as 105½. Crucible sold off four points from its best price of the day at 79⅞c.

United States Steel dropped to 108¾ in the late afternoon as fears of resumption of submarine activity on this side as a basis for a raid.

The market closed weak.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Early reports of rain in Argentine sent wheat down at the opening Friday but later cables indicated the rain was too late in the season to help the crops after the long drouth, and wheat took an upward turn. December wheat was up 1c at $1.58½; May up 1½ at $1.57¾.

Corn opened unchanged, but advanced slightly on fair buying. December up ½c at 77c; May up ¼c at 78⅝c.

Oats had little activity. December was unchanged at 48⅝c; May up ⅛c at 51⅝c.

Provisions were higher, pork showing the largest gain.

GRIEP GIRL SAVED FROM PRISON AND SHE WILL MARRY

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13.—Helen Griep, the stenographer who has spent the past two weeks in the Dane county jail, on a charge of first degree murder hanging over her head, following her confession that she smothered her week old illegitimate child and cast its body in a park lagoon, will not go to prison. Walter L. Burch, confessed father of the child, announced to Judge Hoppman late Thursday afternoon he had taken out a marriage license and would marry her. The marriage then occurred. Miss Griep was paroled to Policewoman Hamilton, and Mr. Burch was fined $1.

The court found Miss Griep sane and she was sentenced to one year in prison. She was immediately paroled.
